

Radel, Kaye In Again; Have Council 9-4 GOP Margin in Supervisor Board 17-16

Tucker Keeps Surrogate Position, Bell, Galletta Remain in Office

The Republicans took handily the races for Ulster County Surrogate, sheriff and coroner in Tuesday's election, but squeaked through with a slim majority on the board of supervisors.

The Republicans will control the board at least nominally, by a majority of 17 to 16. Last year the majority was 18 to 15. Today's totals are still unofficial, with one voting district still missing.

Francis X. Tucker (R), of Kingston, incumbent surrogate serving the unexpired term of Charles H. Gaffney, was re-elected by 26,010 to 19,608 for Arthur B. Ewig, (D-L) of Kingston.

Sheriff Claude Bell, (R), was re-elected over Marshall Yerry (D-L), by a vote of 26,280 to 19,168.

Coroner Michael Galletta (R) of Saugerties was re-elected over Dr. Harry McNamara (D-L) of Hurley by 24,264 to 20,552.

Complexion of 1960 Board

When the new board is officially seated Jan. 1 the following towns will be represented by Republicans:

Ulster, Saugerties, Hurley, Marlborough, Rochester, Wawarsing, New Paltz, Denning, Hardenberg, Shandaken, Olive, Woodstock and Shawangunk.

Represented by Democrats will be Esopus, Kingston, Lloyd, Marlboro, Gardiner, Plattekill and Rosendale.

Mable Only Democrat Elected

One of the most striking of the elections was in the Town of Esopus where the incumbent supervisor, Roger Mable, (D) was re-elected for a second term, unprecedented for a Democrat in that township.

He defeated his Republican opponent by 1460 to 958, a plurality of 502 votes.

An entire slate of Republican candidates in the Town of Esopus, except for supervisor, were elected. Stirling Potter (R) defeated George Freer (D) for councilman by 104 votes. Paul Mercier (R), town superintendent of highways was re-elected for a fourth term, defeating Elynes Terpening (D) by 1335 to 798.

Other Democratic candidates of that township lost to Republican opponents by approximately 580 votes.

Upset in Kingston Town

A major upset came in the Town of Kingston traditionally Republican, where John Duffy (D) defeated incumbent supervisor Leo Stauble (R) by a majority of 51 votes.

Supervisor George Majestic (D) of the Town of Gardiner, who was elected two years ago by a seven vote majority, was re-elected Tuesday by a majority of 295 votes over his Republican opponent, John Fall of Gardiner.

Gaffney Re-elected

The entire Democratic ticket in the Town of Lloyd was re-elected, with Supervisor John Gaffney, Democratic floor leader, defeating his Republican opponent by an unofficial majority of from 275 to 300 votes.

In a hotly contested election in the Town of Marlboro John C. Quimby (D) was re-elected supervisor by 142 votes over his opponent.

Rocco Benevento (D), prominently mentioned last year in the kickback probe was re-elected superintendent of highways in Town of Marlboro.

Peter Savago (R), who defeated Richard W. Lent (R) in the last primary, was elected supervisor in the Town of New Paltz. Lester R. Davis (R) was re-elected supervisor of the Town of Olive, defeating Peter Sabatino (D) by 364 votes.

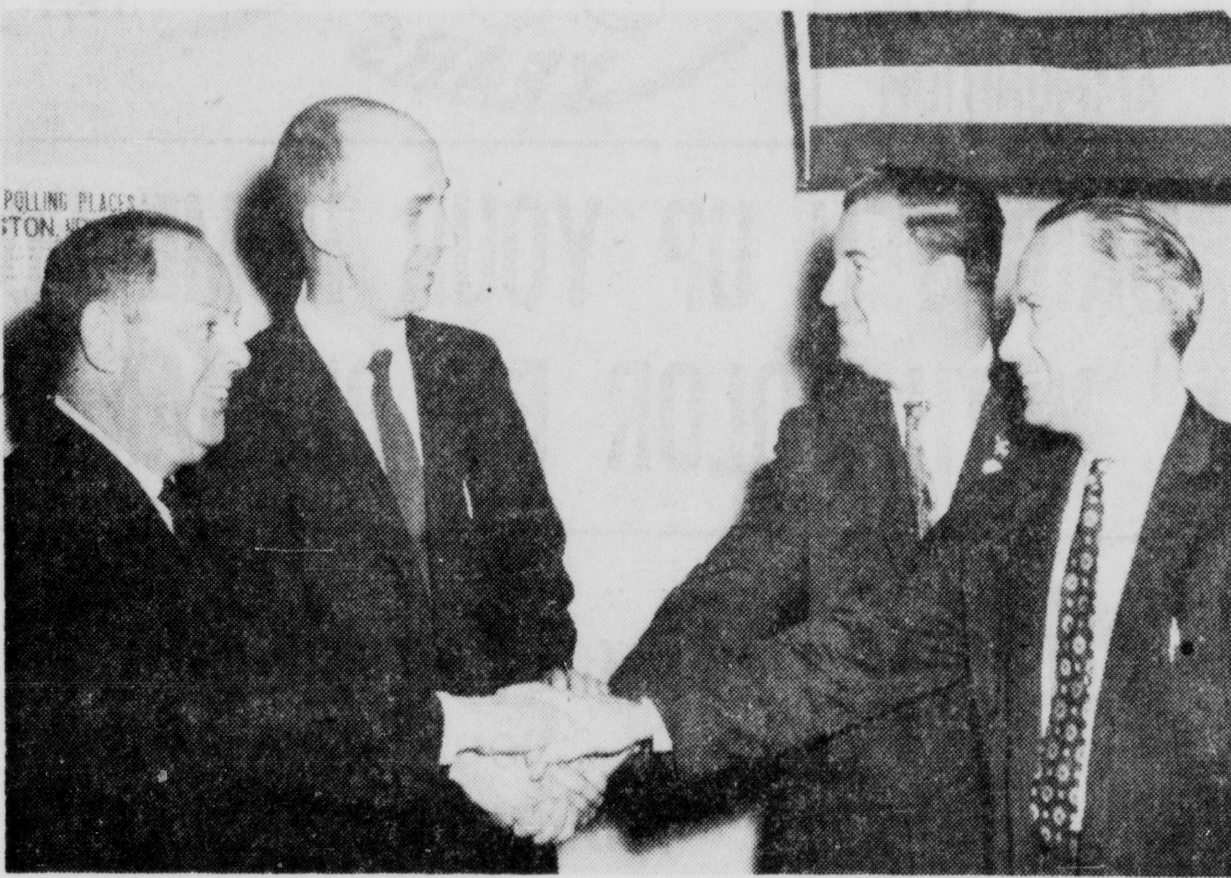

Carries Ticket Along

W. Howard Simpson (D) was re-elected supervisor of the Town of Plattekill by a majority of 186, carrying his entire ticket with him.

Supervisor A. Richard Terwilliger (R) was re-elected in the Town of Rochester defeating Richard Davis (D) by 129 votes.

DEMOCRATS SMILE OVER CITY VICTORY—Election night was a happy time for Kingston Democrats. Mayor Edwin F. Radel and Alderman-at-Large Harold Kaye were re-elected by top-heavy pluralities. John B. Heitzman will be the new alderman of the 12th ward, a Republican stronghold for years. From left are Kaye, Heitzman, Mayor Radel and Corporation Counsel William A. Kelly, Democratic city chairman, complimenting the victors. (Freeman photo).

REJOICE AT GOP HEADQUARTERS — Successful city and county Republican candidates in Tuesday's election are in jolly mood upon receiving news of victory at court house last night. From left are Arthur Myers, re-elected alderman of the Second ward; James A. Rapp, supervisor again of the First ward; Sheriff Claude Bell, who was returned to office; Surrogate Francis X. Tucker, elected to the post that first came to him on appointment of Governor Rockefeller to fill a vacancy; Supervisor Benjamin Storms, re-elected to the position in the Second ward, which he formerly served as alderman; and Joseph Carroll Jr., new alderman of the 11th ward. Crime Probes Show Effect at N. Y. Polls

Northway, Canal Plan Approved; Gotham School Bond Is Trowned

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A half-billion-dollar spending plan for New York City schools was buried today under an avalanche of statewide opposition from voters who approved two proposals advanced as economy moves—the Adirondack Northway and the State Barge Canal amendments.

In balloting in Tuesday's off-year election, which crossed factional as well as political lines, voters also:

1. Restored Republicans to control in a majority of the 45 cities in which there were GOP-Democratic battles, including scandal-ridden Utica.

6 Other Proposals Won

2. Outsted local administrations that had been involved in charges of crime or corruption.

3. Approved six other less controversial amendments.

4. Filled 11 vacancies in the Legislature but left unchanged the overwhelming Republican control of that body.

5. Elected Associate Judge Charles S. Desmond as chief judge of the Court of Appeals, the state's highest court. He was unopposed.

A proposed constitutional amendment to permit New York City to exceed its debt limit by 500 million dollars to build schools was crushed, 1,325,091 to 1,164,195 in virtually complete returns. Most of the opposition came from the city itself.

326,626 Approved Edge

Voters approved 1,500,643 to 1,174,017 Amendment 2, which authorized the state to use 300 acres of the Forest Preserve for a link in the Albany-Canada Northway. Supporters had argued that building the road along the Champlain Valley route generally favored by opponents would have added 28 million dollars to its cost.

The Barge Canal amendment authorized the Legislature to transfer that waterway to the federal government. The vote was 1,409,409 to 1,039,598.

Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse said in a statement that Republican gains "obviously must enhance the political prestige of Gov. Rockefeller. . . . On the other hand, the outcome of the New York City school bond amendment is a damaging loss of political prestige for (New York) Mayor Wagner."

See Blow to Rocky

Democratic State, Chairman Michael H. Prendergast estimated his party had increased its Upstate strength by 15 per cent in city councils, boards of aldermen and county boards of supervisors. The results, he said were "a firm blow to Gov. Rockefeller's prestige and his high-tax program."

Wagner had spearheaded a drive for support of the bond plan. He said it was essential for the city to provide adequate schools. As a result of its defeat, he said early today, New York would have to slash its budget and its schools faced "a bleak future."

Amendment Results

These were results on the other amendments approved Tuesday:

No. 1—To create a separate State Department of Motor Vehicles, 1,733,085 to 834,733.

No. 3—To require public officials to testify before grand juries about any office held five years before the call to testify, 1,711,531 to 679,265.

No. 5—To eliminate primaries where there are no contests, 1,361,258 to 886,048.

No. 7—To authorize local governments, instead of the Legislature, to increase pensions of policemen and firemen or their beneficiaries, 1,764,991 to 776,431.

No. 8—To authorize the Legislature to adopt for state use federal definitions used for income tax purposes, 1,508,093 to 833,865.

No. 9—To authorize local governments to borrow money jointly to provide cooperative services, 1,514,268 to 830,413.

Republicans won control of nine city administrations from Democrats. The Democrats took over four cities from Republican control. The GOP now has a 23-21 edge in the 45 cities in which the two parties clashed Tuesday. An independent candidate won the Republicans Cling to Same Margins in Senate, Assembly

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Democrats tried unsuccessfully to whittle the overwhelming Republican majority in the State Legislature Tuesday in an off-year battle for 11 vacant seats.

But six Republicans won again in Republican strongholds and Democrats retained their five former seats. When the dust settled, the GOP majority was 34-24 in the Senate, 92-58 in the Assembly, the same as after the 1958 election.

Three new senators and eight new assemblymen, elected to seats left vacant by death or resignation, will serve the unexpired terms of their predecessors.

Two of the new Republican senators, Mrs. Genesta Strong from the 3rd district, Nassau County, and Hunter Meighan from the 30th district, Westchester County, are veteran legislators. Both resigned seats in the Assembly this year.

Mrs. Strong, a member of the Republican State Committee, defeated Democrat-Liberal Charles W. Anderson. Meighan beat Democrat-Liberal Mrs. Harriet S. Wolner, a former school teacher.

The third Senate seat went to Democrat-Liberal Simon J. Liebowitz, from the 10th district, Kings County. He defeated Republican Michael C. Curci by

Tucker and Bell Are GOP Winners in City

Democratic Mayor Swept Into Office By 2,373; Kaye Plurality Is 1,873 Votes

Democrats, with the aid of Liberal Party votes, returned incumbents to top city posts with record party totals, giving Mayor Edwin F. Radel, 1,886 more than the combined total of Addison D. Jones, Republican, and W. L. Rider, Economy Party candidate, but the city vote went Republican for the county offices of surrogate and sheriff.

Mayor Radel, with 6,373 Democratic, and 893 Liberal Party votes, polled 7,266 to top the 4,893 polled by Jones by 2,373. Rider's slim total of 487 was 2,215 under the 1957 Economy Party total of 2,702.

Harold L. Kaye, incumbent Democratic alderman-at-large, polled 6,241 Democratic, and 891 Liberal Party votes, for a 7,132 total, which gave him a 1,873 plurality over the 4,850 Republican and 409 Economy Party votes for Gerald Conrad.

Although city voting favored Republican candidates for the posts of surrogate and sheriff, it produced a substantial advantage for the Democratic candidate for coroner.

Heitzman Takes 12th

Democrats gained a 9-4 advantage in the Common Council and elected nine supervisors. A major victory of the day was the election in the 12th Ward of John B. Heitzman, who polled 839 Democratic, 95 Liberal and 108 Economy Party votes, for a 1,042 total win by 112 over incumbent Alderman Richard K. Wood, who received 930 Republican votes.

Heitzman will be the first 12th Ward Democratic Alderman in the Common Council in more than 40 years.

The city approved five and voted down four of the nine amendments on the ballot.

Better Than in 1957

Mayor Radel's plurality was 862 better than that of 1957, and his gain over his Republican opponent Tuesday was 1,349 better than his 1957 advantage of 1,024 votes.

Kaye's total of 7,131 was 1,254 better than that of 1957 when he polled 5,877 votes. His 1957 advantage over Republican William S. Keyser was 1,036.

A shift in the sweep that won Democrat-Liberal party candidates top city posts and control of the Common Council, brought defeat to Arthur B. Ewig, Democrat-Liberal candidate for surrogate, and Marshall Yerry, Democrat-Liberal choice for sheriff.

Tucker Margin 263

Ewig, polling 5,158 Democratic, and 814 Liberal Party votes, for a 5,972, was 263 under the 6,235 polled by Francis X. Tucker on the Republican ticket.

Yerry, with 5,172 Democratic, and 789 Liberal Party votes, polled a 5,961 total, which lost him the city vote by only 50.

Saugerties Town Votes Williams In 6th Time

Supervisor Peter M. Williams was re-elected Tuesday for a sixth term sweeping into office with him the entire Saugerties town Republican ticket.

The first woman ever to be elected to a Saugerties town office, Miss Marion Newkirk, was chosen for the post of town clerk over Democrat Mrs. Rita Gavigan 2,891 to 1,361. Miss Newkirk led the GOP ticket with a plurality of 1,530 over her opponent.

Supervisor Williams defeated his Democratic opponent, John J. Kaminski, 2,818 to 1,467, polling 174 more votes than two years ago.

The Republican candidates carried all 10 Saugerties districts except one defeated in District 1 in the village, and another in District 8, Glasco.

In District 1, Lewis Robinson, Democratic candidate, polled 322 to 296 for incumbent Frank W. Hommel for the post of four-year assessor. However, Hommel won the election 2,303 to 1,926.

Robinson headed the Democratic ticket, as he has in previous attempts in the past few years.

In Glasco, Frank Costello, Democrat, defeated Anthony Rizzo 328 to 259. However, Rizzo was elected to the post of President To Tour 9 Countries

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower announced today he will visit nine countries in Europe, Asia and Africa, starting Dec. 4.

Eisenhower told a news conference the 19-day goodwill tour will take him to:

Rome, Italy; Ankara, Turkey; Karachi, Pakistan; Kabul, Afghanistan; New Delhi, India; Teheran, Iran; Athens, Greece; Paris, France; and Rabat, Morocco.

May Call on Pope

The tour to three continents will start in Rome with two days of talks, beginning Dec. 4, with high Italian government officials.

Eisenhower also said he hopes to call on Pope John XXIII.

Eisenhower plans to return to the United States Dec. 22, three days before Christmas.

In the Italian capital, Eisenhower would meet with Italian Prime Minister Antonio Segni and other leaders, as well as Pope John XXIII in the Vatican.

He would follow this up with flying visits to Greece and Turkey, America's Atlantic Pact allies, then make the long flight to India and Pakistan for further goodwill talks.

In Paris Hlre Days

As a grand finale, the President, riding in his new 707 jet airliner, would fly to Paris Dec. 19 for a three-day Western summit meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle, Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Eisenhower's decision to undertake such a trip at this time comes as a surprise. Friends have reported that ever since he got his jet plane early this summer he has been in a traveling mood.

But he had been expected to delay his travels until next spring, combining visits to other countries with his scheduled trip to the Soviet Union.

The tour will be mainly work

GOP Has 23-21 Edge Of Upstate Mayors

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Cities undergoing crime investigation tossed out incumbent administrations Tuesday as Republicans regained control of a majority of the cities that held partisan elections.

The political complexion of the 45 cities where mayoral contests were decided on party lines underwent a fast shuffle as Republicans took over Utica and Ithaca, and Democrats grabbed the reins in Oswego.

Ruling Party Upset

Suffolk County, where long-entrenched Republicans have been accused of tax and real-estate irregularities, elected a Democratic majority to the board of supervisors.

The ruling party was upset in 15 cities. Republicans gained a 23-21 margin in the 45 cities where the two major parties were vying. Democrats had held the same advantage.

One independent, Dr. J. Leo Weiler, defeated both GOP and Democratic candidates at Norwich. Four elections bore the non-partisan stamp.

Utica, center of a state-ordered investigation of crime, elected a Republican mayor for the first time since 1943. Democrats had demanded in their campaign that the special investigation be ended.

In Ithaca, the State Investigation Commission had held hearings on gambling and issued a report charging that the administration of Mayor John F. Ryan, Democratic incumbent, had been lax in enforcing gambling laws. Ryan was defeated by Ralph C. Smith.

Corsall Is Defeated

Mayor Vincent A. Corsall of Oswego, a Liberal, had charged the Republican police chief with taking protection money from gamblers and ordered a special investigation. Corsall, a high school teacher, was defeated by Democrat Ralph Shapiro.

U.S. Voting Is Marked By Surprises, Upsets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democrats generally consolidated gains on state and local levels in Tuesday's scattered off-year elections. In the main contests they easily retained the Kentucky governorship and the Philadelphia mayor's office.

Democratic politicians, looking for a 1960 presidential year trend, could point to a strong showing in Indiana and Connecticut municipal elections. Indiana Democrats retained control of every major city and ousted Republicans in Fort Wayne and Lafayette.

Gain Nine in N. Y.

But the Republicans gained in upstate New York, where they ousted nine Democratic mayors while losing six municipalities. And in New Jersey Republicans not only staved off a Democratic bid to win control of the state Senate, but apparently cut the Democratic majority in the Assembly.

As usual there were a few surprises and upsets. Former Utah Gov. J. Bracken Lee made a comeback by winning election as mayor of Salt Lake City. The ultra-conservative Lee no longer counts himself a Republican. He ran as an independent against a Democrat in what was supposed to be a non partisan election.

In Philadelphia ever-hopeful Republican Harold E. Stassen went down to a predicted defeat by incumbent Mayor Richardson Dilworth a Democrat. The margin was overwhelming.

Stassen Still Hopeful

Stassen has not won an election since the 1930s when he was the youthful governor of Minnesota, but not from lack of trying. Though he seemed to be at the end of a downhill political trail, he said "I may run for political office in the future. I am still a young man and plan to be active in politics."

Democrat Bert T. Combs won a landslide victory as governor of Kentucky over Republican John Roberson Jr. Combs had had an intraparty squabble with retiring Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler but it hardly affected his smashing win.

Democratic victories in Indiana, continuing a swing that started four years ago, included Indianapolis, Gary, South Bend, Evansville, Terre Haute and Hammond.

In Connecticut Democrats scored three upsets and kept control of the largest cities. They won

IBM Engineer Missing on Hunting Trip

State Police, firemen and volunteers aided by bloodhounds and using a helicopter renewed a search today for a 29-year-old International Business Machines engineer missing in woods two miles from Middletown.

Shortly before noon Middletown troopers said no trace of Fred Majowicz, of Scotchtown, had been found. Bloodhounds from Troop A headquarters at Hawthorne and a helicopter were pressed into the search today when the hunt was renewed.

Troopers reported that Majowicz left the home of his brother-in-law, Ira Bailey near Middletown at about 9:30 a. m. Tuesday. He was accompanied by his hunting dog and carried a shotgun.

State Police received word that a man resembling Majowicz was reported seen in the woods at about 12:20 p. m. Tuesday, but since then he has been unreported. Troopers were told Majowicz was hunting in woods familiar to him.

The engineer's brother-in-law notified authorities after Majowicz' return was long overdue and a search was begun. It broke off at midnight, but was resumed shortly after daybreak.

Majowicz is employed as an engineer at the IBM plant in Kingston.

TV Sponsor Never Knew Shows Rigged, Probers Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of a television show sponsoring firm told congressional probers today he had no idea that TV quiz shows were rigged.

Martin Revson, an official of the Revlon Co., when Revlon was advertising sponsor of "The $64,000 Question" and "The $64,000 Challenge," declared: "I never had the slightest knowledge that any contestant was told any answer in advance."

"It never entered my mind that the producer could control the losing or winning," he said.

Two producers of the now-defunct shows testified earlier they were controlled.

Mert Koplin, associate producer, said Revlon was aware of this control. Steven R. Carlin, another associate producer, said the sponsor "indicated to us they had some idea we were controlling the show."

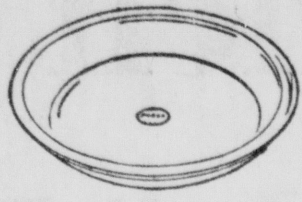

Revson, who described himself as "the senior Revlon executive responsible" at the time but now a private investor, put the blame for any hanky-panky on the owners of the show, Entertainment Productions, Inc.

Challenging testimony that the sponsor made suggestions which virtually amounted to commands, Revson said: "EPI was boss. They had the last word on everything about the shows. If we didn't

THE SUPER GOVERNMENT

The Government of the United States is the most powerful of any free nation in the world. Yet it does not have any power, under the Constitution, to shut down steel mills; stop railroads from running, close our seaports; or turn off the electricity or milk supply of any city.

Red Russia can do these things, but we cannot. In time of war, as a matter of military necessity, the United States can commandeer the steel mills, railroads, and ships to supply our needs. But the mills, railroads and ships would run. They would not close down.

Yet a government that has no power of its own to stop these operations has, in effect, given that power to private groups not chosen by the people, who use that power to make a nation stand and deliver.

This is like the Roman emperors farming out to their favorite tax collectors, the power to extract tribute from the people.

When you stop to think of it, this is a heck of a situation. It is an abnegation of government.

Congress does have the power to prevent monopoly; limit the merger of railroads, steel mills, banks, radio stations, etc., so that no such merger could demand tribute from the nation.

It has the same power to limit the merger and size of labor unions.

Until it does so, we cannot call ourselves a free people.

Great Majority Insist They Did Not Get Help In Winning Thousands

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Where are they now the people who won thousands of dollars on television quiz shows? And what do they think of revelations of fixed programs, topped by Charles Van Doren's admissions before a congressional committee?

Most of them have dropped back into obscurity. Some have changed from one job to another. Few seem to have scored any great financial gains, other than their prize winnings, although some have been able to retire.

The great majority insist that they received no direct help in giving correct answers.

At least one woman wonders whether, unknown to her, she received help.

Thinks Questions Tailored

"I received no answers," said

Mrs. Carlyle E. Anderson of Evanston, Ill., a $24,000 winner. But, she continued, "Now, I feel quite let down because I think the questions were tailored to avoid my knowledge deficiencies. I had felt quite satisfied with myself."

The housewife said the only coaching she received was on what to do with her hands and a reminder to take time before answering.

Myrt Power, 75, of Buford, Ga., the grandmother who won $32,000 for her knowledge of baseball, lives with a daughter, Sarah Cook, and spryly denies she received any answers.

"If somebody had been giving out the answers I wouldn't have stopped at $32,000 on 'The $64,000 Question,'" she said. "I'd have gone all the way."

Mrs. Power, a Dodger fan, went to Los Angeles for the World Series last month and wrote special articles for the Atlanta Journal.

Remember the Egan brothers of Hartford, Conn., who won $48,000 on the quiz show? James N. Egan is still an attorney there, but William Egan has married and moved to Winter Haven, Fla.

William is in the real estate business and is writing a novel "not about TV quiz shows." He said that as far as he and his brother could tell the shows were not rigged.

Dr. Joyce Brothers, another $64,000 winner as an expert on boxing, was one of the few winners to continue on in a television career. She has an NBC program on which she gives psychological answers to letters sent to her by viewers on topics such as love, marriage and child rearing.

To a query whether she received any questions or answers in advance on her quiz appearances, she said: "None whatsoever."

Elfrida von Nardoff of Brooklyn, whose winnings of $220,000 were one of the all-time highs on TV quiz shows, quit her job as a personnel manager during her appearances on "Twenty-One."

She later took a lengthy tour of Europe. Since she has returned to New York, but has not been reachable for comment.

BIGGEST FIX OF ALL

In a new jibe at the United States, Russia now says it will stage some quiz programs on its own, with Americans to be tested on questions about that country, and awards to the winners. These quizzes, it declares, will not be fixed.

In the light of our quiz program history, we perhaps have this one coming. We like to say that the Russians practice dishonesty and immorality with deliberate purpose. But this time, at least, we didn't look like paragon of virtue ourselves.

Nevertheless, we ought not to let the matter rest with the Russians having the unchallenged advantage.

Admittedly we have been fixing quiz programs in this country. But we can fairly point out that in the Soviet Union, the whole radio-TV network is fixed. Anybody who thinks it isn't should just try to broadcast something the government doesn't want on the air.

In fact, we can go a big step farther: Their whole country is fixed. The Kremlin may not furnish answers to quiz questions. But it supplies answers to everything else. And if you want to live in Russia, you'd better feed them back as they are handed out.

The Russians are said to favor banning military use of Antarctica. They like cold war—but not that darned cold.

THE GAME DWINDLES

Now that the duck hunting season is again in full swing, an appropriately amusing cartoon by the famous Ding is worth another look. The first frame is titled, "Any Old Duck Slough 25 Years Ago." The feathered creatures are swooping into the pond in droves, to the obvious delight of a solitary hunter sequestered in the reeds. The second frame bears the caption, "The Same Place Today." High in the sky, a lonely duck flies for its life as a thousand hunters blaze away.

Sportsman the country over have deplored the increasing scarcity of game. Fish, pheasants, ducks—all appear to be in diminishing supply. But are hunters in diminishing supply? Far from it. In 25 years the population of the U. S. has been swelled by about 50 million, and among that many people there are a lot of hunters.

Our sympathy goes out to the sportsman. Waiting for the wily mallard can be thrilling, but it's a losing battle. The wildlife will never be able to keep up with us. As swamps are turned into housing developments and sloughs into farm lands, people are surely inheriting the earth. Our feathered and finny friends will have to hie themselves elsewhere unless determined efforts are made to keep some parts of the country open to them.

Poetry, a college professor says, helps readers to release "bottled up feelings." And it's less expensive than bottled goods.

Swarms of bees forced an Italian marmalade factory to shut down. Well, collective bargaining can't succeed every time.

HAVE A HAPPY DAY

Far be it from us to discount the worth of optimism and good cheer, but to beseech someone to be happy strikes us as a waste of time. Happiness is infectious. A genuinely happy person can make others happy, but he doesn't work his wonders by admonition or preaching. Generally such a direct approach only makes black moods blacker and kindles a desire to punch the cheer-upper in the nose.

With this in mind, we read rather glumly a story concerning a Los Angeles advertising agency which instructs the girls taking telephone calls to employ this introductory answering gambit: "Have a happy day." This gay technique fails to take into account the possibility that the person making the call may be plagued with a cold, loss of sleep or overpowering melancholy.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
BUY AMERICAN

Senator Fulbright objects to the use of the phrase, "Buy American," because it might offend somebody who wants to sell something in this country that was not made in the United States. Whether we buy American or buy British or Polish, we always seem to offend everybody anyhow. Prime Minister Macmillan, when he was here last, complained about our not buying electrical equipment from Great Britain; the Polish want us to buy Polish hams; the French want us to buy French wines and cognacs but they put a narrow quota on American-made products. It would seem that the United States is always wrong no matter what we do.

Trade became a one way street when the world wanted American dollars, as long as it was the most stable currency. The British worried about the "dollar gap." Laws were passed governing the export of American dollars from most countries, many of which were in economic distress, depending upon American bounty. It is not possible to buy American goods without exporting some American dollars; therefore many countries which were receiving American aid chose not to buy American goods. They hoarded the dollars.

Some of the countries which were helped so graciously are now well off. Great Britain is on her feet. West Germany is economically sound. France is in less economic trouble than she has been in years. One can go among the nations of the world today and find considerable stability.

But the United States is in difficulties. This country is facing an awkward inflationary period. Our gold reserve has been petering out and although the ear-marked gold remains in our possession, the beneficial owners of much of it are other countries. The dollar is rapidly depreciating in value.

The Secretary of the Treasury, Robert B. Anderson, has faced this problem most courageously. He has told the trading nations that the value of the dollar must be protected and that restrictions upon trade with the United States must be removed or lessened if the dollar is not to collapse. The British responded favorably to that appeal, particularly the London "Times." It was recognized in Great Britain that the European countries that are well-off ought to take up some of the burden of caring for the underdeveloped countries.

It is impossible for the United States to continue to permit dollars to pour out over the world. The American dollar is backed by a gold reserve of 25 per cent. If the gold stocks held in Fort Knox are permitted to fall below that guarantee, the value of the dollar will be decreased because its acceptability will be decreased. Countries that demand gold instead of dollars either as grants or in return for commodities thus imperil the value of the dollar.

Why Senator Fulbright should get all excited and find his photograph on the front pages of some newspapers over a mathematical equation that has long been proved is not easily explained, unless it be that the learned Senator, who was a Rhodes Scholar, feels more kindly disposed to the good will of dependent nations than to the worth of the American dollar. Be that as it may, the proposal to "Buy American," is sound if the value of the dollar is not to be dissipated under present economic conditions and the attack on the dollar by Soviet economy.

"Buy American" does not mean that no one is to buy alien-made goods. It means that a preference is to be shown to American manufactured and American taxed goods, particularly in letting government contracts. One of the immediate results of the Kaiser agreement in the steel strike will be an increase in the price of certain commodities made of steel and an increased import of steel. Already, for 1959, steel imports have nearly doubled. It is possible for steel imports to increase to a point where they altogether exceed our exports of steel, not in a strike period but as a permanent item of trade. The reason: price.

In business price is always the basic factor—price for a particular commodity in a particular market. When the price of domestic goods is so high that it is cheaper to import, to pay freight and customs charges, then the foreign goods will push the domestic goods out of the American market. And that will hurt labor more than it will management.

'Hesitating' Regulator in The Body Is Cause of Acne

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Many young people get acne or facial pimples. You must understand the nature of this common complaint before you can hope to control it.

Here are the facts:
Acne is not a disease. It is a reflection in the mirror of the skin of profound changes that regularly and normally take place in our glands of internal secretion.

At all times, our blood contains a certain amount of male sex hormone (androgen) and a certain amount of female sex hormone (estrogen).

Under normal conditions, the blood content of androgen and estrogen is kept in balance in much the same way that a thermostat regulates the temperature of your heating or cooling system.

The principal regulator of this balance is the tiny pituitary gland that occupies a compartment in the skull between the openings of your ears. When the body needs more female sex hormone, as in pregnancy, the pituitary signals for more estrogen and related glandular products. One visible result of this shift is swelling of the breasts preparatory to secretion of milk.

When the body needs more male sex hormone, as when the lad becomes a young man, the pituitary signals "more androgen!" You become aware of this shift as the body's voice cracks and then deepens and when fuzz appears on his upper lip and chin.

During the delicate period when boy and girl "come of age," the pituitary adjustment flickers a bit like electric lights in a thunderstorm. When this flickering results in a slight overproduction of androgen, the skin mirrors this change by becoming pimply.

This is what happens to your skin when your blood contains an excess of androgen:
Millions of oil glands whose secretions usually keep your skin smooth work overtime and your face looks greasy, especially in folds and creases.

Instead of flowing easily out of the many oil sacs, the cheese-like secretion of the skin glands plugs the opening. You have a whitehead. Dirt darkens the surface and it becomes a blackhead.

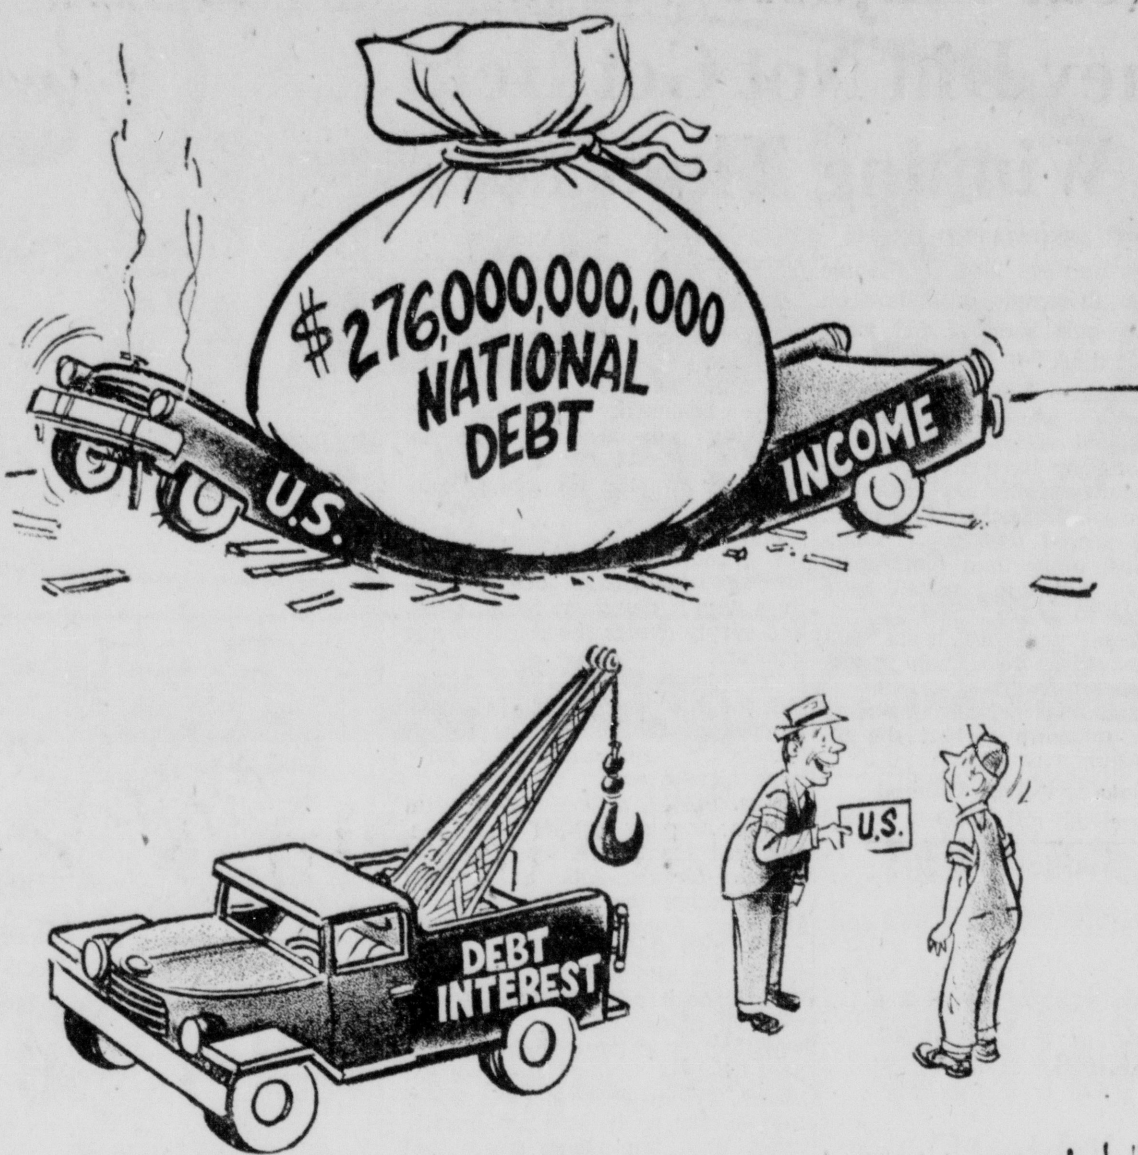

Sooner or later, skin bacteria sets up house-keeping in the plugged sac and the next thing you know you've got a pimple. The pimple breaks or you squeeze it. Then the infection is seeded in surrounding oil sacs and then you have a crop of pimples.

Tomorrow: True or false about pimples.

At that particular moment, "Have a happy day" may curdle him beyond recall.

Happiness campaigns, smile drives and courtesy weeks may be noble in motive, but somehow they fail to come off. They induce as much gloom as they chase. Moods can not be turned on and off like tap water.

"Tow 'Er In---Here's My Credit Card"

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — If you're getting old and you don't want to live with your married son or daughter... And you don't want to rattle around in a big house by yourself, either... But you do want to be independent... Then there's a better deal in store for you.

One reason: some private builders are now beginning to design and put up homes suited for older people—men and women in their sixties and early seventies.

THAT WAS THE BIG NEWS in private talks at a recent nationwide conference of builders. The Federal Housing Administration will insure 30-year mortgages for the elderly people. And the Federal National Mortgage Association will even buy up the mortgage if a bank turns down a man just because he's over 60.

These new houses for the elderly are smaller, easier to take care of, than the average home. They're one story, with no steps to climb. Many don't even have steps to get into the porch.

All the kitchen cabinets can be reached without climbing on a stool. The oven is waist high. So are the wall plug-in sockets, so there won't have to be a lot of stooping.

Halls are wider than normal; so is the bathroom door. You can make your way around even if you're confined to a wheel chair. Floors are made of nonslip, nonskid materials. They're also made "unshiny." The researchers have discovered that old people slip and fall even on a nonslip floor if it's shiny. "Some-thing psychological, I guess," says one building man.

STORAGE CLOSETS ARE DESIGNED so everything is easy to reach. There are grab bars in the bathroom. Humpy door sills are eliminated where-ever possible, to prevent falls. Halls have better-than-normal lighting.

Says one builder who has tried out these ideas: "You want to build these houses for oldersters near a lake. Make them less expensive. Be sure and build the houses so these elderly people can manage things for themselves. They want to be independent."

"They want to live in a normal community, though, where a lot of the people aren't old. And they don't want to live too many miles from where their old friends and families are."

BIG PROBLEM FOR THE BUILDERS: the oldersters want these conveniences, but they don't want to be reminded that they need them. So how to sell the houses without mentioning the advantages?

But not all older people want to buy homes. Many want to rent. For those people, the Federal Housing Administration is now pushing a full-scale drive to get profit and nonprofit enterprise to invest in efficiency apartments and other rental dwellings designed for the aged.

The FHA people expect this program to hit 100 million dollars in 1960. FHA's role: to insure the mortgages.

Why the big push by private industry and the United States government on housing for the old?

Statistics indicate there are close to 15 million Americans 65 or older right now. By 1975, statisticians estimate there will be 21 million. One American out of 10 will be over 64.

Questions -- Answers

Q—Where do Virginians say Thanksgiving Day was first observed in America?

A—At the historic James River plantation of Berkeley. The land was granted in 1619 by King James I, and it was here a year later that the first Thanksgiving Day was celebrated, a year before the Pilgrims landed in New England.

Q—Which is the biggest bat on earth?

A—The Flying Fox. It has a wingspread of two to five feet and its body may be 12 inches long.

Q—Is there a difference in the length of day and night at the equator?

A—No, day and night are always equal at the equator.

Q—Are Saturn's rings visible with the naked eye?

A—No, its rings can be seen only through a telescope.

matter of FACT

The oxides of a group of little-known metals are called "rare earths," a name given them in the early days of chemistry because they resembled the substances then called "earths." Probably because of their rarity, not many uses have been found for them. Cerium is the only one of the large number of "rare earth" metals that has any commercial importance.

Danger to Labor's Gains Seen in Fight on Taft Writ

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States will uphold the order of the lower court requiring the striking steel workers to go back to work—if precedents and court decisions of the past are respected.

For there would be greater calamity for the labor unions if the injunctive power were held not to be within the power of Congress to confer upon the Federal court. It would mean that all the orders issued for the last twenty years by courts as a consequence of decisions by the National Labor Relations Board, requiring employers to "reinstated" discharged employees, now would be of doubtful validity.

On the surface, it might appear that no law of Congress could compel any man to go to work against his will or any employer to rehire a dismissed employee. But when an order to terminate a strike for eighty days, as provided in the Taft-Hartley Law, is issued by a court, it doesn't compel any individual to go back to work. It applies rather to the power of a union to keep members from returning to their jobs. The court order is directed to the union or members acting in concert rather than to the choice by an individual worker. Similarly, an employer can fire a worker for inefficiency but not just because he is a member of a union.

Commerce Clause

The theory that has governed congressional power with respect to labor-management relations is that each individual has a right to work or not to work, but that no organization—either a labor union or an employer group—can exercise arbitrary power over individuals without being subject to federal law when interstate commerce is involved. This principle is derived from the so-called "commerce clause" of the Constitution, which says that Congress has the power to regulate interstate commerce. All the laws relating to monopolies, to trusts and combinations of any kind are based on that part of the Constitution.

Union labor, of course, doesn't come under any anti-trust laws today, but there is no doubt that Congress has the constitutional power to enact such laws whenever it pleases.

It was when Congress passed the Railway Labor Act in 1926 that the first step was taken to require the recognition of unions by the railroads whenever a majority of the employees vote to do their bargaining through unions. Later on, in 1935, Congress passed the Wagner Act, which gave legal recognition to the principle of compulsory collective bargaining in all industries engaged in interstate commerce. The Taft-Hartley Act of 1947 reaffirming this requirement.

Previous Test Cases

There have been many cases before the Supreme Court of the United States contesting the validity of orders issued by the National Labor Relations Board, but the power of Congress to write laws governing labor-management relations has been consistently upheld. Indeed, there have been a number of cases in which the right of Congress to pass laws authorizing injunctions and back-to-work orders has gone to the Supreme Court to be construed. At one time the coal miners' union fought a legal battle against such a court order even though the law provided for government seizure of the mines. The labor leaders contested the back-to-work order, but the Supreme Court upheld the injunction as well as the power of Congress to write laws providing for such injunctions.

The theory back of all these laws is that the union is a group of individuals who collectively exercise or attempt to exercise rights over other individuals and that failure by a union to obey a court injunction constitutes a conspiracy to violate the law.

To topple over now the right of Congress to authorize the courts to issue injunctions against any strike that occurs during a national emergency is to imperil the whole legal structure on which labor's rights of collective bargaining have been built up. It is true that the lawyers for the steelworkers union have conceded that, when a "real emergency" arises, the executive and the courts must prove that such an emergency has occurred. On this point, however, the Supreme Court can hardly substitute its own judgment in the current steel strike for the facts as proclaimed by the President of the United States.

Based, therefore, on previous cases and precedents, it would appear that the union leaders have wasted a precious period of more than two weeks by their legal battle questioning the constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley Act's provisions dealing with a national emergency. The workers might already have been receiving wages so sorely needed by their families. Not only have many millions of dollars of income been taken from the workers but millions of tons of steel production have been taken from the American people, including workers in industries other than steel.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—In his famous "integration" decision

Earl Warren put in a plug for two books by two professors of Scandinavian and, to say the least of it, socialist political character. Warren and his wife are of Scandinavian background and he has revealed in "honors" paid him in Sweden by the Socialist government.

Warren's "authorities" were not qualified before the court in the usual legal process. They are Gunnar Myrdal, a Swedish Socialist politician and habitual soft-jobholder who latched on to the United Nations for 10 years at $18,000 a year plus $3,500 expenses; and Theodore Brameld, a native of Wisconsin, latterly a professor at New York University. He went on leave in 1953 and resigned in 1958. His prominent reputation as a radical before Warren chose him as an authority worthy to lay down the "Law of the Land," and thereby gave his book a bigger customer public. This work is "Educational Costs in Discrimination and National Welfare."

Myrdal's opus is "An American Dilemma." This one, likewise, now enjoys the precious boon of gratuitous ballyhoo conferred by the chief justice.

Neither book was presented in court so the opposition had no chance to refute the material or to discredit Warren's sages by examining their character, their political associations or their intellectual qualifications.

I will put Myrdal on the back of the stove for today to report on Brameld, who was denounced in these essays before Warren embraced him.

Two societies which I will cite here were on the well-known "Attorney General's list" of "Subversive and Communist" organizations and a third had been ordered to "show cause" when it beat the A. G. to the punch by disbanding.

Brameld was "signer" of an open letter from American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born to President Truman, Nov. 17, 1950, as published in the Daily Worker, official Communist paper. Attorneys General Clark and Biddle both "cited" that one. He was named as "sponsor" on the letterhead of American League for Peace and Democracy, according to the Worker, Jan. 11 and Aug. 3, 1939. Clark "cited" this front.

The Worker reported that Brameld spoke for National Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions at the notorious Waldorf program, March 25 and 27, 1949. The State Department refused to give visas to European Reds to attend this rally for a pro-Russian "peace." This is the one which evaporated when the Department of Justice served a "show cause" order.

The Worker said Brameld signed an "appeal for amnesty" for leaders of the Communist party jailed under the Smith Act which the Warren court has persistently weakened to the benefit of persons accused of the obvious thing.

"Press releases" named Brameld as "sponsor" of Committee for Free Political Advocacy, Feb. 11, 1949, and as "signer of statement to Truman" by the Committee for Peaceful Alternatives to the Atlantic Pact, on Dec. 11, 1949. He signed a legal brief for the supreme court in behalf of the Hollywood ten, convicted before the efficacy of the "Fifth" was discovered, and sent to prison for contempt of Congress. The brief was made by cultural workers in the motion pictures and other arts, October, 1949.

A pamphlet dated October, 1948, named Brameld as a "member" of Educators for Henry Wallace, then the presidential candidate of the Communists, who refused to repudiate their support. His name appeared as "signer" of a letter on the letterhead of National Wallace for President Committee, June 18, 1948. His name was on a letterhead of non-partisan Committee for Re-election of Vito Marcantonio, who was Red as a slit throat, Oct. 3, 1936. Name appeared as "signer" on leaflet for World Peace Appeal and Stockholm Pledge, a cold-war exploit, Aug. 31, 1950.

The foregoing is from the files of J. B. Matthews, the greatest authority on Communist activity in the United States, late chief examiner for the Dies Committee, currently in private practice uncovering Muscovite treachery in industry and Latin American politics.

In 1949, Brameld married as his second wife, Miss Ona Swanson, seemingly of Scandinavian background even as the Earl Warrens, who had been a Brameld student.

It is useless to ask Warren whether he is a personal friend of either of his favored Scandinavian "authorities." He has declared that he cannot speak for publication because his "hands are tied."

Neil W. Kelleher 15,238 votes on the Republican line and 658 on the Liberal Party line for a total of 15,896. Purcell received 15,711 votes.

The GOP won a 10-7 majority on the city's Board of Aldermen. There was a tie in one ward. In the county, the Republicans gained a 22-13 majority on the Board of Supervisors by picking up five seats, all in Troy.

City voters gave overwhelming approval to a new city charter providing for a city manager form of government in 1964.

Previously, the Democrats had a 10-8 majority on the Board of Aldermen. The Board of Supervisors was tied 17-17, with one vacancy.

The only Democrat re-elected in the city was Treasurer A. Franklin Mahoney.

Keating Aide Now Rocky's Employee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating's press secretary, who is credited with helping Keating gain a reputation as a humorist, is working for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller now.

The Republican senator's office said Tuesday Hugh Morrow, who also was Keating's executive assistant, had taken a leave of absence to write speeches for the New York governor, a possible candidate for the GOP presidential nomination. Morrow began working for Rockefeller in New York City last Friday, a Keating aide said. Morrow, a former writer for the Saturday Evening Post, worked for former Sen. Irving Ives (R-NY) before joining Keating's staff. At more than $16,000 a year, he was the highest paid of Keating's Washington employees.

Steel Order Is Still in Hands Of High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today pondered which way to rule on a back-to-work order in the steel strike as federal mediators strove anew for a settlement of the tieup.

The court gave no indication of when it would hand down its decision. Three hours of discussions behind closed doors Tuesday brought no announcement of results.

May Not Delay Ruling

But it was expected generally the court would not delay its ruling, with the strike already in its 113th costly day.

The ruling will affect both the strike itself and emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor relations law, under which the back-to-work injunction was issued two weeks ago by U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert Sorg in Pittsburgh.

The injunction, which would send 500,000 striking steelworkers back to their jobs for at least 80 days, has been held in abeyance pending the outcome of appeal. Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, called before him negotiating teams representing the steel industry and the striking United Steelworkers Union.

Meets Two Groups

He met separately with both groups Monday, and indicated he may try to get them into a joint meeting for some real bargaining today.

But there was no advance sign that either side was prepared to budge from long - deadlocked stands before the court has ruled. The Supreme Court's nine black-robed justices sat for more than four hours in legal arguments on the bitterly disputed Taft-Hartley injunction.

Arthur J. Goldberg, counsel to the union, called the Taft-Hartley law unconstitutional. He said that in enacting it Congress "passed the buck to the Supreme Court to break strikes."

Replying for the government, Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin defended the statute's emergency strike-ending machinery. He said Congress had passed it to protect the nation's interests, not merely those of labor or management. He insisted it is constitutional.

President . . .

with little opportunity for relaxation, they said. They did not rule out, however, a brief stopover at some point to ease the rigors of his schedule in advance of the Paris summit talks.

Some diplomats thought Eisenhower might add Iran, and possibly Afghanistan, to his trip if he could fit them into his scheduled itinerary. The State Department Tuesday said the Shah and the Iranian people would be delighted to welcome him in Tehran.

The President will be in Paris for three or four days starting Dec. 19 for the Western summit conference. He said today he will visit Rabat, Morocco on his way home, after leaving Paris.

To Visit - New Delhi

The only other detail Eisenhower provided was that he will be in New Delhi Dec. 11 for the opening of the American exhibit at the International Agricultural Fair there.

The visit to India is expected to provide an opportunity for the President to make a major speech.

The tour to three continents will be the most extensive overseas trip Eisenhower ever has undertaken.

Eisenhower noted that no American president ever has visited Asia.

Since he is going to India, Eisenhower said, he feels he would be missing a chance if he did not also go to such other countries in the general area as Pakistan, Afghanistan and Iran.

Most of Travel in Jet

Replying to another question, Eisenhower said he expects to do most of his traveling in his big, new jet airliner.

Eisenhower went on to say that at some point during the 19-day tour he will have to take some sort of break. Those details, he added, will be worked out later.

Eisenhower also said he hopes to get away sometime this month for a brief vacation in this country.

As for Mrs. Eisenhower, the White House said Tuesday there are no plans for the first lady to accompany the President to Paris for the Western summit conference. Eisenhower said today he believes Mrs. Eisenhower will not accompany him on the remainder of the tour abroad.

Saugerties Cubs Halloween Party

Cub Pack 32, sponsored by the Atonement Lutheran Church, Saugerties, held its annual Halloween party Friday night in the church hall, Market Street. The cubs and their families all appeared in costume. Judging was held, and awards given for the best in each category.

The most humorous costume award was given to Melvin Howard, dressed as Mighty Mouse, but with a broken arm, that he, out of necessity, had to include in his masquerade.

The most original costume of a three stage rocket was worn by Steven Cart, and his sister, Carol Cart was the winner of the prettiest costume. Judges were William Potocko and Kenneth Magyar Sr.

Two new cubs, Laurence Wyman and John Potocko and their parents were welcomed into the pack.

The cubs and their families played games during the evening

150 Await Death in Hungary

Priest Offers His Own Life In Exchange for Teenagers

NEW YORK (AP) — A young Roman Catholic priest, who fought in the Hungarian revolution, offered his life today in exchange for the lives of 150 Hungarian teenagers he says are awaiting execution.

The Rev. Vazul Vegvary, 30, of the Holy Ascension church, Roeb- lin, N.J., said "those kids followed me because I am a priest" and he feels responsible for their fate.

Father Vegvary marched with 130 other Hungarian refugees who demonstrated for an hour early today outside the Park Ave. headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations. The refugees marched silently with black flags and the Hungarian colors on the third anniversary of the Hungarian uprising.

Dr. Bela Fabian, chairman of the Federation of Hungarian Former Political Prisoners, said the youngsters were sentenced to death at secret trials for their part in the revolt when they were 13 and 14 years old. He said they are to be executed as they reach 18, since Hungarian law forbids the execution of anyone under 18. Fabian said he got his information from letters smuggled from Hungary.

Panama Is Off Limit to Yanks Due to Outbreaks

PANAMA (AP)—Panama was off limits for Americans living in the Canal Zone today following violent anti-U.S. demonstrations during the 56th anniversary of Panama's independence. At least 82 persons were injured, three seriously.

Crowds of demonstrators, protesting U.S. control of the canal, tore down the American flag at the U.S. Embassy Tuesday, stoned the embassy and the U.S. Information Service office, overturned American autos and battled U.S. canal police for four hours.

The mobs finally were routed by Panamanian National Guardsmen. Canal Zone police and firemen and U.S. Army troops armed with rifles, bayonets and machine-guns. The Canal Zone police arrested six demonstrators.

Anti - American demonstrations also took place in Colon, Panama's second largest city at the Caribbean end of the canal. One mob broke into a U.S.-owned railroad station and carried off the cash box. The ticket agent escaped by locking himself in his office.

Troops from the Army's Caribbean Command stood guard along the Canal Zone's borders. The 90,000 Americans living in the Zone were ordered to stay inside the 500 square miles of U.S. territory. The Army cancelled plans for units in march in a Panamanian flag day parade in the capital today.

The target of Tuesday's outbreaks—touched off by Panamanian nationalists—was the unusual hold the United States has over the zone. The United States was granted control of the zone in perpetuity after it helped the Panamanians win their independence from Colombia. In recent years Panamanian nationalists have been demanding that their government establish its sovereignty over the zone.

Producer Would Return to Face New Quiz Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former television producer Albert Freedman has assured House investigators he will return from Mexico if needed for further testimony on rigging of TV quiz shows.

Freedman, one of the producers of the now defunct quiz program "Twenty-One," gave this promise to the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee in a closed-door hearing last Oct. 10. The subcommittee made public the transcript of the hearing only today.

Freedman, who moved to Mexico after "Twenty-One" collapsed under rigging charges last year, refused during his interrogation to reveal that Charles Van Doren had been given questions and answers in advance while a contestant.

However, he said he would be willing to return from Mexico if the subcommittee should want to question him after hearing from Van Doren.

Van Doren, who won $129,000 on the show, confessed to the subcommittee Monday that he had been thoroughly coached in advance.

During the October hearing, Freedman denied emphatically he ever attempted to obtain a loan from Van Doren.

Van Doren Given Invite to Coast

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Cheer up, Charles Van Doren. There's a job waiting for you in this central California city.

Ralph Ring, manager of the Greater Stockton Chamber of Commerce, said Tuesday, "A sampling of community opinion indicates Mr. Van Doren is an honest man at heart and would be most welcome in Stockton."

Until a teaching vacancy opens at College of the Pacific or at Stockton College, Ring said, Van Doren could work as industrial research manager for the Chamber of Commerce at the same salary he received as assistant professor of English at Columbia University — $5,500.

Airman Is Found Alive in Maine After Jets Crash

BINGHAM, Maine (AP) — Searchers in a wilderness area of western Maine seeking wreckage of two Air Force jets which collided in the air Tuesday night said today they had found one of the three missing airmen alive.

They refused to give the name of the man, details about his condition, or where he was found.

There is still no trace of the two planes. One of them was armed with missiles.

One plane was a T33 trainer, carrying the two men, the other a supersonic F102 Delta Dagger carrying only the pilot.

The planes were from Ethan Allen Air Force Base, Burlington, Vt.

The Air Force said one of the trio of missing men is Lt. Alfred L. Williams, 26, a native of Manchester, Conn., who lives with his wife at South Burlington.

The F102 was armed with six Falcon air-to-air guided missiles and 21 rockets. Noting that the missiles could be touched off by short-wave radio, the Air Force warned police to keep their sets turned off within a quarter of a mile of the wreckage when and if they find it.

TV Sponsor . . .

like it, there was nothing we could do about it."

Investigating members of the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight talked of expanding their probe of TV show rigging to other kinds of programs.

The staff of the House Legislative Oversight subcommittee, it was learned, has begun gathering information on at least one show a different nature. Sources declined to name or specifically describe it.

The subcommittee pushes ahead today in its hearings on the admittedly controlled $64,000 Question and Challenge formerly carried on CBS.

It called as witnesses two officials of the Revlon Co., which sponsored the $64,000 Question. They are President Charles Revson and Vice President Martin Revson.

Mert Koplin, associate producer of the $64,000 shows, testified Tuesday that Revlon officials, among them Martin Revson, knew about the controls and made suggestions that involved keeping some contestants going and letting others drop out.

Koplin added, somewhat grimly, that in television there is a tradition of pleasing the client. Revlon issued a statement Tuesday night contending that "pressure from a sponsor to do a better job did not give quiz program producers a license to cheat."

Noting that the shows were controlled by their producing companies, Revlon said it "did suggest numerous ways in which the programs could be improved, but rigging was not one of them."

Meanwhile Rep. John B. Bennett of Michigan, senior Republican member of the subcommittee, said in an interview he does not think the group should stop at the quiz shows in its efforts to root out what he called "misleading and deceptive practices in television."

Asks Criminal Penalties
Bennett called for criminal penalties for those guilty of deception on the air, saying no other bans would be effective.

"There are other kinds of shows beside the quiz shows which lend themselves to misrepresentation," Bennett said. "We know there have been complaints that some things presented as unrehearsed and that in other ways the public is given a false impression."

Bennett declined to be more specific, but said the subcommittee should go after the facts.

Finds Car, His

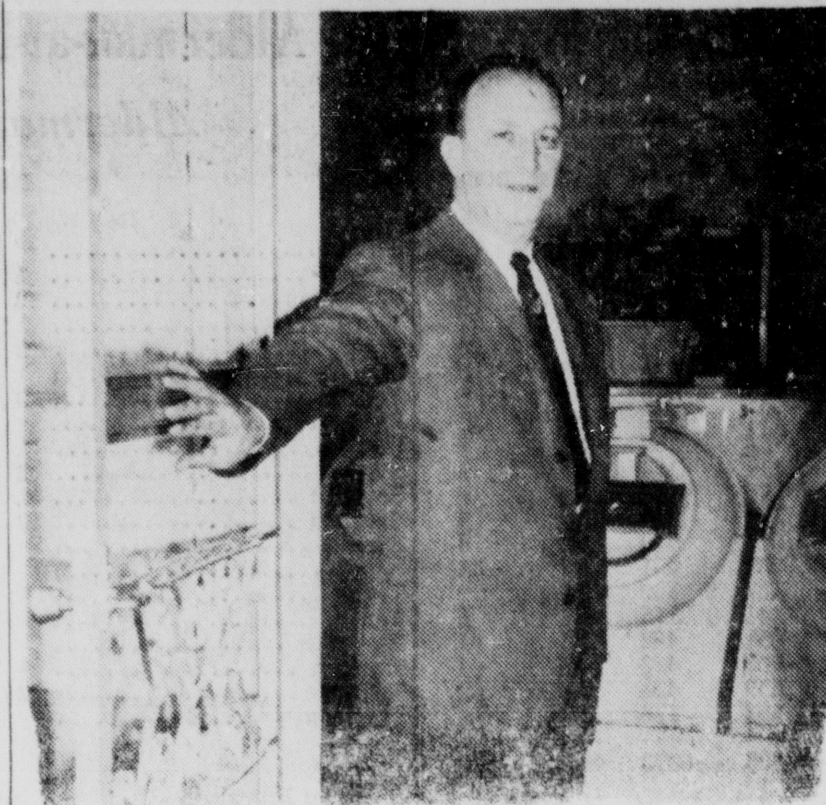

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rookie Los Angeles police officer John W. Ensign has made his first arrest and recovered his first stolen car. It was his own.

He spotted Mike Gehres, 18, driving the car Tuesday. After a brief chase, Gehres leaped from the car and Ensign tackled him. The youth was booked on a grand theft charge. Ensign said the car was stolen from the police station parking lot.

68th Thor Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An intermediate range Thor, the most-fired U.S. ballistic missile, was launched for the 68th time Tuesday.

There was no official announcement on the test results, but a reliable source reported the 63-foot missile performed as expected as it sped down the Atlantic missile range.

OPENING NEW LAUNDROMAT—Peter Esposito, owner and operator of Esposito Cleaners, opens the East O'Reilly Street Laundromat at 15 East O'Reilly Street in preparation for the grand opening Thursday. The new establishment will be open 24 hours a day, seven days a week with 18 50-pound dryers and 40 nine-pound Westinghouse washers available. A soap vending machine and four coin changers will be available also. An attendant will be on duty most of the time to aid patrons with washing problems. Ample off-the-street parking is offered. The laundromat was designed by James White of White Plains and Donald Smoke of New York City was general contractor. All of the work was done by local tradesmen, including Ralph Palen, electrical work; Herbert Van Deusen, plumbing; and Harry and Nick Savatgy, carpenters. (Free-man photo)

Goldwater Feels Nixon Can Lead GOP to Victory

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona says Vice President Richard Nixon can lead the Republican Party to victory next year if party members work hard.

The senator told about 600 Republicans at a dinner here Tuesday that Nixon is "trained in politics and public office and understands the responsibilities of the presidency. He is not a product of the gray flannel ballot box."

President Likes Rockefeller, U. S. Reporters Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today said he likes New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and they had an interesting talk about politics last week.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference what kind of politics he discussed in a 70-minute conference last week with Rockefeller, who is regarded as a possible bidder for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

Unaware of Stopwatch

A reporter said this was the longest conference the President had had with any individual since his talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

With a show of surprise, the President replied this was a personal conversation. He said this was the first time he knew that anybody was keeping a stopwatch on him.

Eisenhower said he likes Rockefeller, who had served previously in his administration.

The President went on to say that a good portion of their conference was about civil defense in which he is interested and in which Rockefeller is taking a leadership part as chairman of a committee of the governors' conference.

Talked Some Politics
Yes, the President said, they talked some politics. He said they couldn't expect two men so involved in politics to avoid a discussion of it.

Eisenhower said he can't remember that they came to any conclusions on the subject. He said they just found it interesting.

Previously Eisenhower had expressed admiration for Rockefeller and for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is regarded as a leading contender for the party's 1960 nomination. The President consistently has declined to take sides between them.

Rosendale Votes Mollenhauer to Supervisor Post

George Mollenhauer (D) was reelected supervisor of the Town of Rosendale in Tuesday's election, defeating John E. Schultz (R), 920 to 734.

John Markle (R) defeated Joseph Szabo (D) 999 to 638 for superintendent of highways. For assessor posts, Walter Keator (R) defeated Alexander Kupecz (D) 881 to 715 for the two-year term and Oliver Craig (D) defeated Adolph H. M. Wirth (R) 803 to 788 for the four-year term.

In the town clerk contest, Catherine A. O'Leary (D), former mayor of the village, defeated incumbent Republican Lillian Hyatt 837 to 775.

Margaret George (D) was elected tax collector by 881 votes over Mildred Moylan (R), 730 votes.

Edward Brodsky (R) with 843 votes defeated Franklin Thorpe (D) who polled 789 votes, for justice of the peace.

Arthur Hahn (R) received 824 votes to defeat Rune Karlson (D), 700, for the post of councilman.

Killed on Way to Church

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Wozniak, 87, was killed today as she was walking to church when struck by an automobile near her home.

Communism Doomed to Fail: Nixon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon took a folksy stroll around Beverly Hills Tuesday and discussed sports with construction workers, visited a brokerage office, kibitzed with a lady supporter, joshed a waitress and ate a hamburger.

Nixon also met with Republican leaders in his hotel suite and had lunch with relatives.

Tuesday night, he told an audience of 1,000 that communism is doomed to fail.

"Khrushchev is wrong," he said. "Communism is not the way of the future. Man needs freedom and a Supreme Being."

The vice president said recognition of the power of prayer was a basic concept on which the United States was founded. He emphasized that the main defect of Soviet philosophy was its dependence on materialism.

Nixon spoke at a banquet honoring the 18th anniversary of the "Rosary Hour" radio program which seeks world peace through prayer.

It was all part of his six-day vacation, which his aides say is nonpolitical.

Banyo Reelected In Ulster Vote; Van Etten Victor

Sup. Alexander J. Banyo (R) was reelected to his post Tuesday with an unofficial majority of 282 votes over his opponent Rogers Murphy in the Town of Ulster.

Banyo's victory headlined a near-Republican party sweep of all township offices.

In the only Democratic victory Cortland Van Etten (D) won the office of superintendent of highways by defeating Vernon Felton (R), incumbent, by an unofficial majority of 265 votes.

Other results follow with unofficial pluralities:

Laura K. Every (R), reelected town clerk over Marion Solits by a majority of 129 votes.

Sal Castiglione (R), reelected tax collector over William Schaffner (D) by a majority of 238 votes.

Francis Phinney (R) reelected assessor, four years, over George Spoonhauer (D), by a majority of 191 votes.

Timothy Troyan (R), elected assessor, two years, over John Hetsco (D), by a majority of 241 votes.

Robert Stedje (R), elected justice of the peace over Everitt Soper Jr. (D), by a majority of 450 votes.

Thaddeus "Ted" Musialkiewicz (R), elected councilman over Edmund Thomas (D), by a plurality of 233 votes. Riccard (Lib.) also polled 46 votes.

Garage, 6 Buses Destroyed Today By Flash Blaze

AMSTERDAM, N. Y. (AP)—An oil-fueled flash fire today destroyed the main garage and six buses of Mohawk Valley Transit Inc.

The six maintenance men working in the block-long brick building escaped unharmed.

The fire broke out as the men were draining a gas tank of one of the buses, Fire Chief Samuel A. Palombo said.

The loss was not determined immediately.

Palombo said everything happened so fast the workers were unable to say whether there was an explosion or why the fire started.

Palombo said oil that had leaked on the garage floor fed the blaze. The bus line serves the Mohawk Valley.

Ike Sees Added Controls Coming On TV Programs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today nobody is going to be satisfied until the television quiz rigging scandals are cleaned up.

Eisenhower told his news conference the attorney general will be ready before Jan. 1 with recommendations for changes in the law to prevent what he called the astonishing deceptions carried out on some programs.

The Federal Trade Commission also is looking into the possibility of deceptive advertising, the President said. He added that there may be some things that will need correcting in that field.

In response to questions, Eisenhower said he does not believe the TV rigging indicates Americans have forgotten their moral standards.

The President said, on the other hand, that the reaction to TV quiz disclosures indicates that most Americans are not so much angry as bewildered.

Dr. Peale Speaker Musicians From KHS to Assist at Sunday Service

A group of instrumentalists from the Kingston High School Band will assist at services Sunday evening at the Old Dutch Church at which Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, one of the nation's greatest religious and spiritual leaders, will preach.

The instrumentalists, who are being trained for the performance this Sunday by Marlin Morrette, director of the KHS Band, are:

Trumpets — Allan Pinkus, Phillips Elghmey and Katherine Lacey.

Trombones — Martin Tirsch, Jay Herrington and Melvin Baker.

Tympani—Charles Rand. Cymbals—Dennis Stewart. William Burhans will perform as soloist with the group and Thomas Clausi as bass.

This group will accompany the Senior and Young People's Choirs in the rendition of "Once to Every Man and Nation."

The Union Reformation services, which commence at 7:30 p. m., are sponsored by the Kingston Area Council of Churches. An offering will be taken at the church, proceeds of which will be turned over to charitable and service organizations of Dr. Peale's choice. The public is invited.

The services are part of the 300th anniversary of the Old Dutch Church which is being celebrated in a year-long observance in 1959. Stuart Munson is chairman of the 300th anniversary committee.

Dr. Peale, minister of the Marble Collegiate Church, New York City, oldest Protestant church in the United States, is author of several best-sellers, including "The Power of Positive Thinking," which has sold more than two million copies. It has been translated into 30 languages.

Planes Searching For Three After Craft Goes Down

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A six-jet bomber carrying a crew of four crashed about 80 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico before dawn today. A Coast Guard helicopter pilot rescued one airman.

Air-sea rescue planes and Coast Guard craft searched for the other three.

The B47 took off from MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa, at 3 a. m. It went down an hour and 19 minutes later, MacDill said.

Lt. Franklin Delano Harrod, the navigator, parachuted from the plane and was rescued. Lt. Cmdr. James Iverson, pilot of the helicopter making the pickup, said by radio that Harrod appeared in good shape.

He gave no other details but said he planned to remain in the area for some time before taking Harrod to the Coast Guard base at St. Petersburg.

MacDill said Harrod is the son of Grover Cleveland Harrod of (705 Pine St.) Hattiesburg, Miss.

Pope Marks Anniversary

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today marked the first anniversary of his coronation and asked for the prayers of the entire Roman Catholic Church to aid him in the second year of his pontificate.

The 77-year-old Pope spoke during a Mass honoring him in St. Peter's. Thirty-one cardinals, hundreds of archbishops and bishops, the diplomatic corps to the Vatican, and about 20,000 persons attended.

Will Be Director Of News at WCOP, Boston Station

RICHARD J. MCCARTHY

One of Kingston's best-known personalities and top emcees, Richard J. "Dick" McCarthy, newscaster for Radio Station WKNY and former staff writer for The Freeman, has accepted a position as news director of Radio Station WCOP, Boston, Mass., it was announced today.

McCarthy will assume his new duties Monday, Nov. 16.

A familiar figure on the dais where he has been one of Ulster County's most notable emcees for a number of years, the personable and popular young man will be greatly missed. He has made a veritable host of friends and admirers during his career in Kingston where he worked as an announcer for WKNY for some 15 years. He is now news director of that station.

His transfer to WCOP, one of the hub city's major radio stations, is a promotion which, in the opinion of those who know his work, is richly deserved.

As Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, said earlier this year in announcing that McCarthy would narrate the formal military review and pageant of the battalion, "His is a voice to be remembered throughout the Hudson Valley area." Few persons within range of Station WKNY were not familiar with McCarthy's deep resonant voice.

McCarthy, whose present address in the Hurley area is Box 84, RD5, Kingston, was born July 1, 1922, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. McCarthy of Highland.

He attended Highland High School, coming then to Station WKNY. His 15-year career in radio has been with that station. For three years, however, 1956-59, he was with The Freeman as staff writer, returning to WKNY as news director early this year.

He served as a member of the board of directors of the Ulster County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and with Michael J. Marchuk, secretary of Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, was responsible for organizing radio shows which raised thousands of dollars over a seven-year period for March of Dimes.

He was a member of the board of directors of the United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc. He was also a former secretary of the Kingston Newspaper Guild.

McCarthy is a licensed ring announcer with the New York State Athletic Commission, having succeeded the late Sam Riber as announcer at boxing shows. He also does ring announcing on wrestling shows.

McCarthy is married to the former Marie McDonough of this city. They have two children, Richard, Jr., 8, and Anne Marie, 6.

Saugerties Guild To Meet Thursday

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Rosary Guild, Saugerties, will be held on Thursday 8 p. m. at the church hall.

All ladies of the Parish may attend. Plans will be made for the annual Christmas party.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Adele Cook will show colored movies of her European trip, including scenes of the Shrine at Lourdes, and many other points of interest that she visited while in her native country.

Esopus Reelects Mabie; COPTakes Other Town Jobs

With the exception of the race for supervisor, Republicans again scored a clean sweep in the Town of Esopus balloting Tuesday.

Incumbent Roger Mabie (D) was returned to office as supervisor, scoring a 1,440 to 956 victory over Vernon Frost (R).

Wallace Wood (R) was voted in as assessor, two years, when he defeated Norman Good (D) by 1,458 to 822.

All other GOP candidates in the township were reelected including:

Miss Emily Card (R), as town clerk by a victory over Anne Ryerson (D), 1,482 to 866.

Fred Wolven (R), elected collector over John Fitzgerald (D), 1,431 to 893.

Paul Mercier (R), elected superintendent of highways over Erymes Terpening by 1,521 to 795.

Victor Spinnenweber (R), elected assessor, four years, over James Cowhey (D), 1,462 to 868.

Allen Dargie (R), elected justice of the peace over Selig Liese (D), 1,447, to 872.

E. Stirling Potter (R), elected councilman over George Freer (D), 1,328 to 1,122.

Van Doren Given NBC Pink Slip

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. has fired Charles Van Doren from his $30,000-a-year job because of his part in rigged television quiz shows.

Van Doren already had been dropped by Columbia University, where he had been a $5,000-a-year assistant English professor. But a new magazine, Leisure, said it would retain Van Doren as an associate editor despite the TV scandal.

In announcing the network firing Tuesday, NBC said Van Doren had insisted all along to network officials—as well as the Manhattan district attorney, grand jurors, and the general public—that he knew of no coaching on the program "Twenty-One."

Van Doren, now 33, won $129,000 on the show. He told a House subcommittee in Washington Monday that he was given questions and answers before going on camera.

"In the light of the facts that have now emerged, it is clear that Mr. Van Doren abused the confidence of the viewing public as a performer as well as a 'Twenty-One' contestant," the network statement said.

NBC had suspended Van Doren with pay Oct. 8 pending the outcome of his appearance before the congressional subcommittee.

Israel and Egypt Reports Differ On Plane Fight

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israeli and Egyptian fighter planes clashed today in an aerial battle near the Israeli-Egyptian border.

The two governments, officially at war despite a long-standing armistice, gave differing accounts of exactly where the clash took place and of what happened.

The Israeli version: Four Egyptian MIGs, Soviet-made jet fighters, penetrated 15-20 miles over the central Negev Desert of Israel before they were intercepted. All Israeli planes returned safely to base after driving the Egyptian planes back into Egyptian airspace.

The Egyptian version: The fight took place over Egypt's Sinai Peninsula between Rafah and El Arish, just west of the controversial Gaza Strip. An Israeli fighter of the Mystere type, built in France, was hit. Flames and smoke were seen coming from it as it fled toward Israel. Six Israeli planes returned undamaged.

The incident was reported to the U. N. commission supervising the Egyptian-Israeli armistice.

Johnson Paying All Attention to Congress Setup

BASTROP, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson told a crowd of Johnson-for-President friends at a fishy Tuesday that he was concentrating on the November congressional elections and would "play one game at a time."

Johnson, the Senate leader, said "the times will nominate the candidate and elect the president."

"My interest now is in the election at hand. We must play it one game at a time. I am going to play the game at hand," Johnson said.

But he added that he was "aware of what so many of my friends in so many places are suggesting with regard to my future."

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) opened a Johnson-for-President drive last month.

Pravda Claims Air Speed Mark

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda reported today that a Soviet test pilot flew a single engine jet plane 2,504 kilometers—1,555.98 miles—an hour to break the official world's air speed record.

The newspaper said Lt. Col. Georgy Mosolov, a veteran test pilot, set the mark while testing a delta-wing E66 jet "in the lower strata of the atmosphere" Oct. 31. The previous recognized record, 2,330 kilometers—1,456.25 miles—an hour, was set Oct. 6 by French test pilot Andre Turcat in a delta-wing Griffon II jet interceptor. The flight was made at 45,000 feet.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Wide gains and losses by scattered issues featured an irregular stock market today. Trading was active early this afternoon.

The more volatile stocks made moves of as much as half a dozen points while pivotal issues showed a pattern of losses and gains seldom exceeding a point.

The market was mixed from the start after the election day holiday. The ticker tape was late for a 12-minute spell as some big blocks were traded.

American Motors and the Studebaker-Packard issues were delayed about half an hour in opening due to a pile up of buy orders.

Both gained in out-of-town exchanges Tuesday.

Stock split proposals for Good-year and Eagle-Picher brought these issues wider gains. Electronics were irregularly lower in profit taking.

Such recent gainers as Motorola and Zenith dropped 3 points or so in profit taking.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 10 cents to $223.70 with the industrials up 40 cents, the rails down 50 cents and the utilities down 40 cents.

Corporate bonds rose slightly. U. S. government bonds were steady.

Kentucky Voters Elect Democrat As New Governor

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—For Democrat Bert T. Combs, the long road to the Kentucky governor's chair has ended in a landslide victory.

The governor-elect sat back today and watched his majority over Republican John M. Robison Jr. climb closer to a record high.

The soft-spoken mountain attorney, swept to an unbeatable lead at the halfway point in vote counting after Tuesday's election.

Caught up in the victorious tide of votes were eight other Democratic statewide office seekers whose pluralities mounted as tabulations resumed.

Robison declined to concede defeat.

Returns from 2,298 of the state's 3,764 precincts gave:

Combs, 364,808; Robison, 228,750.

Combs' campaign leaders predicted his winning margin would top the 128,976-vote record set in 1955 by Gov. A. B. Chandler.

Wilson W. Wyatt, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, was rolling up an even greater edge over Republican Pleaz Mobley.

Democrats, already assured of control of the state Legislature because of holdovers and unopposed candidates, added to their majorities.

In the 38-member Senate, Democrats held 25 seats and Republicans seven. Six races were undecided. In the House, Democrats were certain of 67 of the 100 seats, the GOP 10.

Stassen Crushed In Philly Vote; Loses by 200,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold E. Stassen was dealt the most crushing defeat in Philadelphia Republican party history in Tuesday's mayoralty election.

Minutes after he conceded his overwhelming loss to incumbent Democrat Richardson Dilworth, Stassen was telling newsmen and a television audience, "I may run for political office in the future. I am still a young man and plan to be active in politics."

Dilworth, 61, a former Marine who crashed the political scene in 1951 as a crusading district attorney, exceeded his own expectation in winning by more than 200,000 votes. He campaigned on his record as mayor of the nation's third largest city.

Stassen, former Minnesota Governor, asserted he would take a brief vacation and return to further his law practice here and "to help the Republican party rebuild and win" in his adopted state.

The 52-year-old Minnesota wonder boy—he served three terms as governor in the 1930s—said: "I'm convinced the time will come when the Republican party will win in Philadelphia and Pennsylvania and I might be a part of it."

That day appeared far off if Tuesday's returns were any criteria. Dilworth polled 432,298 votes to 227,862 for the GOP standard-bearer, a plurality of 204,436.

NEW HURLEY—The annual turkey supper held under the auspices of the New Hurley Guild at the church hall last Wednesday evening was reported to be a success. Over 300 were served. The committee thanks all who assisted in any way.

There will be regular preaching services in the New Hurley Church Sunday 11 a. m. and Sunday school 9:45 a. m. in the church hall.

The New Hurley Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Ira Merwin Saturday, Nov. 14, at 2:30 p. m. The date has been changed from Nov. 7 to Nov. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shurtler of Marlboro and sister Mrs. Ella LeFever of Gloversville spent Sunday afternoon with their cousins, Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton.

Several from here attended the Reformation service at the Walden Reformed Church last Sunday evening.

Woodstock Area News Molyneaux Is New Supervisor As Republicans Score Sweep

LISA TIANO, Correspondent

The Republican party scored a clean sweep in the Woodstock township election Tuesday, capturing all seven posts at stake and boosting their Town Board majority to 4-1 for 1960. Justice of the Peace Dixon McGrath (Dem.) was a victim of the Republican sweep.

Abram F. Molyneaux, who has served as town attorney for the past several years, won the supervisor's post with a 408 plurality over Charles J. Tiano, the Independent - Democratic nominee, who also had Liberal party endorsement. Molyneaux polled 1156 votes to Tiano's 748, as more than 1900 voters cast ballots. Molyneaux succeeds Supervisor Joseph Fitzsimmons, who was not a candidate for re-election.

Superintendent of Highways Albert Cashdollar led the Republican slate with 1264 votes to win by 654 plurality over Louis A. Lewis, former Democratic town leader, who polled 610.

Marjorie Harder was re-elected town clerk, polling 1244 votes to Mrs. Kathleen BuBois' 644, for a 600 plurality over the Independent and Democratic candidate.

Frank Tackella was elected to the four-year term as assessor with the lowest Republican majority.

Gala Halloween Party Staged by The Onteora P-TA

Prizes were awarded for costumes in three classifications at the gala Halloween party held at the Onteora School on Friday, Oct. 30. Trustee Harry Allen of the Board of Education was master of ceremonies and kept the show moving at a lively pace throughout the evening.

Prizes of silver dollars were awarded for the first three places in the following categories: most original, funniest, and prettiest. The winners follow:

Most Original: Nancy Simon, first; Judy and Christina Gardner, second; Ann Marie Dutcher, third.

Why We Say--

WHITE TABLE: We call a place where snapshots or autographs are kept an album. Actually the original albums were not books. The word goes back to ancient Rome where the names of public officers and rules were printed on a white-topped table. Album is derived from "albus" or white board.

Reds Apply Pressure

GENEVA (AP)—Information received here shows that the Hungarian office for church affairs is intensifying efforts to control the churches and undermine the influence of so-called "reactionary elements who hide in the churches."

Plattekill

Methodist Church Notes

PLATTEKILL—The Rev. Carl Hartman, pastor of the Plattekill and Rossville Methodist Churches, was in charge of the Evangelistic Mission Service conducted Friday night at the Rossville Church. During the five-day session of the United Evangelistic Mission services were held alternately at the parish churches.

A new time has been set for the worship services in the Plattekill and Rossville Churches, as follows: Rossville, 9:30 a. m., Plattekill 11:45 a. m.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship met Sunday night at the Plattekill Church, to conduct a routine meeting and social time.

A meeting of the Stewardship and Finance Committee met Monday for a business meeting.

The Couples Club will meet Friday, Nov. 6, at 8 p. m. at the Plattekill Church.

Local members of the Plattekill Lions Club will participate in the annual observance of Ladies Night, Saturday, Nov. 7, at the Oddo House, east of Clintondale. During the business session Martin Jenkins will assume

Grange Notes

Alfred Harris was installed as master of the Plattekill Grange, for the second term, at installation ceremonies Saturday evening at the Plattekill Grange Hall.

Other officers of the organization installed at this time were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett, Mrs. Burton Ward, Mrs. Ira Merwin, Mr. and Mrs. George McMullen, Mrs. Robert Zuelke, Mrs. Walter Kleeman, Mrs. Robert Richter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dembroski, and Clarence Dunn.

A roast beef supper was served by members of the Service and Hospitality Committee, preceding the ceremonies. The committee included Mrs. Elmore Lozier, Mrs. Ralph Grismer, Mrs. Ruth Lockwood, Mrs. Elsie Van Wyck and Mrs. Charles Richards.

Dancing will follow the turkey supper at the Plattekill Grange Hall Wednesday evening, Nov. 11, with music furnished by the Kentucky Moonshiners.

Tickets may be obtained for the supper from the chairman, Ernest L. Waite, Plattekill, Ralph Newkirk, Walkkill, and Fred Bernard, Modena.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett represented Ulster County at the annual State Grange session at Elmira.

Baptists in Italy

ROME (AP)—The small, but fast-growing Baptist membership in Italy has doubled since World War II—up from 2,200 to 4,383. Last year, the Baptists gained 405 new members—one for every 10 former members.

Little Slam Is Elusive

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand which was sent me by John Waina of Greensburg, Pa., might well be called the little slam that wasn't there. Since the heart and spade finesse both lose and the clubs don't break six no-trump must be set unless East is kind enough to open a heart. Six clubs must also go down.

It appears that six spades is a nice easy contract but look what happens if West opens a heart. South goes up with dummy's ace and takes three rounds of diamonds in order to get rid of dummy's queen of hearts. Now, suppose he ruffs a heart and leads dummy's queen of spades? West refuses to win the trick!

Even looking at all the cards South can't avoid the loss of a trump and a heart.

Suppose South goes to dummy with a club and leads the spade queen. This time West wins and leads the suit back. If South ruffs a heart, he can't get out of dummy to draw the last trump.

Hudson Valley Stamp Exhibition Slated Nov. 13-15

The eighth Hudson Valley stamp exhibition will be held at Poughkeepsie YWCA Building, Cannon Street, on November 13, 14 and 15.

Some of the best philatelic material will be on display and worthwhile prizes will be awarded to the most outstanding exhibitors.

The Dutchess Philatelic Society was organized January 26, 1931 by 11 charter members and ever since then meetings have been held every second and fourth Monday evening. The first stamp display was held at Luckey, Platt & Co. from March 15 to March 18, 1931 and it created considerable interest at that time. An outstanding and unusually successful event was the First Hudson Valley Stamp exhibition which took place at the Campbell Hotel on November 8-9, 1935.

Everyone interested in postage stamps is cordially invited to attend the exhibition on November 13, 14 and 15, as well as the bi-monthly meetings.

If South draws trumps, he can only get one heart discard.

Of course, there is one slam in the hand. If North plays the six spades he will wrap it up.

(Although this is addressed to Chevrolet owners, we'd be glad to have you read it, no matter what make you now own or plan to buy. It might well be as interesting and significant to you as to the Chevrolet owner.)

TO THE MORE THAN 16 MILLION PEOPLE WHO OWN CHEVROLETS

The first and the latest—the 1912 and the 1960 Chevrolet. The progress represented here is the result of continuing efforts to make your new Chevrolet always more beautiful, more useful and more valuable in every respect.

You belong to the largest family of owners in the automotive world.

We hope you're proud of that. It must give you great satisfaction to know that your judgment in choosing Chevrolet has been confirmed by so many other people.

We know that we can hold your preference and your loyalty only by continuing to offer more of the things you want, by meeting our responsibilities to you fully and completely from the day you buy your Chevrolet to the day you trade it in. And so we'd like to talk with you about our responsibilities as we see them, and what we are doing to meet them.

To Build the Kind of Products You Want and Need. Our first responsibility, we think, is clear: To design and build products that satisfy your needs and your wants to the highest possible degree. To that end, we have done these things for 1960:

Made the 1960 Chevrolet more economical, roomier, more quiet and comfortable, easier to handle and maneuver. Introduced the compact and revolutionary Corvair, the result of nine years' development. Produced a new line of Chevrolet trucks with unprecedented advances in efficiency, cargo handling, driver comfort and ability to get a job done. Each of these products is the best of its kind we have ever made. Each, we believe, reflects your wishes, your desires and your needs to an exceptional degree.

To Build Them the Way You Want Them Built. But it isn't enough to design and build the kinds of products you want.

They must be built right. Solidly. Carefully. Built to serve you long and faithfully.

Let us assure you of this: Chevrolet's fine reputation as a solid, well-built, dependable product is being safeguarded by more of our engineering and manufacturing people, and by more checks and inspections and tests, than ever before. We are determined that your new Chevrolet shall reach you with everything looking and fitting and working the way it should look and fit and work. And we're determined that, if you give it any reasonable kind of care at all, your Chevrolet shall stay that way for a long, long time.

To Provide Better Care Through Your Chevrolet Dealer. Along with your Chevrolet dealer, we want you to have available the finest and most complete service facilities. That is why we: Conduct training schools for Chevrolet dealer mechanics. Study and recommend improved service equipment and techniques. Maintain the industry's most complete parts warehouse system to provide your Chevrolet dealer with the parts you need in the quickest possible time. And that is why we have, together with your Chevrolet dealer, initiated a comprehensive new program designed to make available even finer service at any time you want it.

A New Department—Your Department. Finally, neither Chevrolet nor your Chevrolet dealer has any intention of forgetting you after you buy. Our interest in you and your satisfaction continues as long as you own one of our products. To help keep you happy with your Chevrolet, we have established a department new to us, and so far as we know, new to the automobile industry. This is the Chevrolet Department of Owner Relations, whose only job is the coordination of Chevrolet and Chevrolet dealer activities so that you enjoy utmost satisfaction during your entire period of ownership. Through this department, and through all the other extraordinary steps we are taking, Chevrolet and your Chevrolet dealer hope to keep you a happy member of the Chevrolet owner family... and to welcome a growing number of new members.

CLINTONDALE NEWS

CLINTONDALE — Melvin Hurd is in charge of reservations from this area for the annual meeting and dinner of the Ulster County Extension Service Association at New Hurley Reformed Church Hall Thursday night. Enoch Squire of the Schenectady radio station will be the guest speaker.

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild served a supper on Wednesday night for the United Evangelistic Mission.

The Clintondale Busy Bee 4H Club will hold a meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Tri-boro Schoolhouse with their new president, John Gaffney, conducting the meeting. All members are urged to attend as plans will be completed for holding the annual Parents Night, this year on Wednesday, Nov. 18 at the school house. There will be speakers, a movie and other entertainment as well as refreshments. George Ronk, senior advisor of the club is in charge of general arrangements.

Mrs. Nellie Bennett entertained Mr. and Mrs. James Al-herton of Marlborough at her home recently.

Mrs. Angelo Vena has been named Neighborhood Fund Chairman for Girl Scouts Algon-koniam Council here. The quota set this year for the council is $700. A house-to-house canvass will be conducted.

Members of Clintondale Grange will attend a testimonial dinner at the Flamingo, Saugerties, Thursday, Nov. 19, in honor of Vernon Barnhart, Granger of Ulster County.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Eichler

Jr. became the parents of a son, John Joseph, born last week at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Myrtle Ronk has been elected chaplain of the Highland Juvenile Grange and Vernon Ronk, assistant steward.

Myron Ronk of this place is chairman for the annual pancake and sausage supper of Sunshine Lodge at the Highland Grange Hall Saturday night, December 12. Vernon Ronk and Clarence Ronk are also members of his committee.

Louis Harris of New York City, spent the weekend at her home here.

The Parent-Teachers Group of Clintondale School held a masquerade party at the Grange Hall Friday night, with children and adults attending. Awards were given for the best costumes in several classes. Games were played and refreshments served. Mrs. Anthony Palazzo was in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Adeline Rouland and daughter Judy of New York City spent the weekend at their home here.

There was no school in the local district Friday as the teachers were attending a district conference in New York City.

There will be a meeting of Platekill Town Board at the town rooms in Ardonia Wednesday night, Nov. 11 with Supervisor W. Howard Simpson presiding.

The Rev. George T. Johnson will hold a morning worship service in Clintondale Methodist Church at 9:45 Sunday. The Sunday school will meet at the same hour in charge of the superintendent Miss Dorothy Roosa.

At the Friends Meeting House, the Rev. Jesse Stanfield will hold a service at 11 o'clock. Sunday school classes will start at 9:45 in charge of Roger Jenkins.

Allied Communities Fire Department held a regular meeting Monday night with their president John Minard presiding. The new two-way radio has been installed and final tests made, it was reported.

Mrs. Ennis Thorn is a member of the refreshment committee for the next meeting of the Highland Home Demonstration unit. Mrs. Verna Thorn of this place is president of the unit.

Clintondale Conservation Club will meet Wednesday night at the firehouse.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I have before me the Kingston Weekly Freeman, of Thursday, July 20, 1899. One item from Natick, Mass., dated July 18, reads: "Horatio Alger, the writer of boys' stories, died this morning. He had been sick about a year." Little did they know then that to this day, his books are collected and read.

This at random from the editorials of that date, a telegraphic dispatch in regard to the Brooklyn strike said Monday: "The state board of mediation and arbitration is on the scene, but has not been able to accomplish anything."

Another item that I liked "When the soil of the United States is tickled with a hoe, it laughs with a harvest." Another item reads "During Cleveland's administration, strikes also occurred, but they were protests against reduction in wages, while the strikes during this administration are all strikes for higher wages."

The following from the 1899 local press in the Port Even news. "William Sleight of tug, Hercules, who has been on his vacation at his home, returned to his work this morning. Benjamin Ellsworth of Main Street is building a trestle for a large tank at Mrs. William Lawton's home. Fairview, to supply water to the house and barn. Nelson Ellsworth is at work for Miss Laura Ellsworth on the main road, building a large coal house. Hezekiah Hotelling of Bayard Street rode to Saugerties yesterday on his bicycle to witness the races at that place."

In the town of Olive they describe the "soap fraud." A smooth talking individual victimized the women of the Hudson River towns and was now working up that way. His plan was to carry a lot of carpet samples and a cup and saucer of ordinary ware and a Dresden china cup and saucer which were samples. The ladies were supposed to buy 100 cakes of soap take the labels off and the week after the manager was supposed to come around pick up the labels and give the ladies a Dresden china set of dishes containing 244 pieces or a carpet. Those who bought less than 100 cakes got other prizes. When some of the doubtful ladies felt that the prizes were better than the soap the salesman said that he was interested in introducing the soap and was saving advertising expenses. Of course the manager with the gifts never showed up to this day and the soap the ladies said was worthless.

This from Eddyville "On Wednesday afternoon one of Henry Riggan's canal horses poked his nose through the glass front of Adam Imhoff's store. It is not known what the attraction was inside that drew him in that direction." They mention in many towns that "many people from this place are at Kingston Point Park this afternoon to hear the Banda Rossa."

Races at Saugerties to which thousands of people came is written up in the Thursday July 20, 1899 Freeman. It was under the auspices of the Saugerties Consulate, No. 4, League of American Wheelman. The one mile Ulster County Championship was won by E. R. Cashin of Kingston. Charles H. Carter of Kingston came in second.

More Seminars

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—A report shows Roman Catholics now have 381 seminars in the United States training men for the priesthood. The number has increased 53 per cent since World War II, the report said.

Norway has a population of about three million.

Election Day Side Lights

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—Daniel J. Keane, Republican candidate for city judge, fell for a fast count Tuesday night.

After watching election returns at GOP headquarters, he conceded victory early in the evening and phoned his opponent, William H. Johnson, with congratulations. Later in the evening, a corrected count showed Keane the victor by 390 votes.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Warren County will move the county seat from Lake George to a 50-acre plot about four miles north of Glens Falls.

County voters approved Tuesday 8,278 to 7,319 moving the seat to the plot along Route 9.

County offices now are divided between Lake George, population under 2,000, and Glens Falls, population 20,000.

GENESEO, N. Y. (AP)—Meet the first Democrat elected to county office in Livingston County since 1882.

He's Charles Courtney of Lima, who defeated Carmen Battaglia of Geneseo Tuesday 7,572 to 6,891 for the post of county clerk.

SCHODACK LANDING, N. Y. (AP)—Charles Beaman, 80, collapsed and died in a voting booth in this Rensselaer County community Tuesday. He had not voted.

NEWARK, N. Y. (AP)—Democrats in the Town of Arcadia have elected their first town supervisor in history.

Milton Elzofon, former mayor of this Wayne County village, was victorious over the incumbent Republican supervisor, Elmer E. Stell, 1,806 to 1,411.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—One voter in Salt Lake City's municipal election Tuesday didn't like either of the two candidates for mayor, Kall, the elephant at the Hogle Zoo received one write-in vote.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Harry Graham was elected the first mayor of the village of Sycamore Tuesday. He wants to be its last mayor, too.

Graham's platform was a pledge to seek to have the new village in Hamilton County unincorporated again.

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Thirty-nine citizens of the Wyandotte County village of Marcellus went to the polls Tuesday—and 34 of them got at least one vote for some office.

There were no candidates for any of the offices.

Earl Simpson came out on top of the heap. He received 10 votes and will be the new mayor.

Republicans Cling

more than 17,000 votes.

Republicans and Democrats split the Assembly seats 4-4.

The seat formerly held for 28 years by the late Oswald D. Heck of Schenectady was won by Republican Joseph F. Egan, majority leader of the Schenectady County board of supervisors, Heck was Assembly speaker for 23 years.

Egan, who also served as counsel to the Joint Legislative Committee on the State's Economy, campaigned for revised state taxes to help attract industry.

He defeated by more than 10,000 votes William M. Murphy, a professor at Union College.

Other Republicans who won Assembly seats were:

Douglas Hudson, from Rensselaer County, where he had been sheriff since 1954; defeated Democrat-Liberal Larry D. Clinton.

Anthony B. Gifford, from Westchester County, 4th district, defeated Democrat-Liberal Anthony J. Zaccagnino.

John Kingston, from Nassau County, 3rd district; defeated Democrat-Liberal Thomas J. Higgins Jr. Higgins, a lawyer and former FBI agent, waged an intense campaign.

The four Democrats who won Assembly seats were:

Donald J. Sullivan, from The Bronx, 1st district; defeated Republican Alfred J. Ranieri, who also ran for the post in 1958 and 1959, and Liberal Jack Wechsler.

James J. Mistretta, from Kings County, 5th district; defeated Republican Louis D. Thiel and Liberal Louis Luckback.

Irwin Brownstein, from Kings County, 16th district; defeated Republican Bert M. Fields and Liberal David Schukin.

Frank P. Cox, who also was backed by the Liberal Party, from Albany County, 1st district; defeated Republican Robert W. Jamison.

It was the only Upstate contest the governor participated in directly. Republicans ended four years of solid Democratic control. Auburn was one of the few cities in the state Rockefeller did not carry in his campaign for governor a year ago.

SWEETY PIE By Nadine Seltzer

"They're arguing over who gets Sweetie Pie! She's a great tackle!"

Was It Earned Dishonestly?

Van Doren In Doubt About Money Return

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — You can start a fast argument with this one: Should Charles Van Doren give back the $129,000 he won through fake on the TV quiz show, "Twenty-One"?

Van Doren admitted three things this week before a congressional committee:

1. The program was phony. He won the money by pretending to think up answers to the questions asked him. He was given the answers beforehand.
2. He lied repeatedly in denying the show was rigged.
3. He is full of remorse for the fake and the lies and "I would give almost anything to reverse the course of my life in the last three years."

Taxes Were Heavy
But when reporters asked him if he would give back the money, he said he didn't know. He said he owes more than he has left. Taxes took more than half his winnings. The rest, apparently, has been spent.

So it might take more than a lifetime to return the money, particularly since Columbia University has just dropped him from a $5,500-a-year teaching job and NBC has just canceled his $50,000-a-year contract with the network.

This is where the question comes in. If he is truly repentant for what he did and wants to make amends, shouldn't he return the money as dishonestly earned? But was it earned dishonestly?

In the first place, to whom should he return it?

Freedman Involved
Van Doren says Albert Freedman, producer of the show, not only was the one who slipped him

Voters Defeat Machine Politics In Upstate City

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—A victory over machine politics was claimed today in scandal-scarred Utica after voters elected a Republican mayor for the first time since 1943.

Democratic Mayor John T. McKennan did not run for re-election but tried to become a city judge. The voters turned him down Tuesday.

Frank M. Dulan won 21,920 votes for mayor, according to unofficial returns. Leo B. Wheeler, the Democratic nominee who also had Liberal Party endorsement, collected 18,324 votes.

Dulan carried with him the GOP candidates for Common Council president and city judge. Democrats re-elected the comptroller and city treasurer.

"A victory achieved by the people of Utica...they decided to get rid of machine rule, which has had Utica by the throat for 14 years," said Mason C. Taylor, executive editor of the two Gannett Group newspapers in the city.

The newspapers were an issue in the campaign. Democrats accused them of stirring up charges of vice and crime in Utica and Oneida County.

Democrats had demanded an end to a state probe of Utica, although it was ordered by ex-Gov. Averell Harriman, a Democrat. The investigation has been continued by Republican Gov. Rockefeller.

McKennan has held office as mayor for two terms. In the voting for city judge, he lost to Matthew S. Ogonowski Sr., 20,765 to 17,868.

Under Critical Eye
NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Preston has a special reason for keeping his lead portrayal in "The Music Man" full of zest. Having been in the part two years, Preston finds himself "in the funny position of competing with myself." He explains: "Some people are seeing the show for the fourth or fifth time, and they compare my performances on different occasions. And I can't fall down, because audience response is always so enthusiastic."

YOUR POCKETBOOK That Cookie Jar Money Is Going to Be in Demand

BY FAYE HENLE
We have just celebrated National Thrift Week. I hold little brief for all the national weeks and national that weeks. But National Thrift Week—this is something else, for it holds an implication for all of us that to date has received little attention.

Time was when you were told to save for a rainy day—for unexpected illness or job loss, especially for your old age. Today, your savings for emergencies and for retirement years is taking a far broader scope than a bank savings account.

Today, some 70 per cent of you have health insurance in one form or another.

Today, more and more of you are covered by unemployment benefits.

Today, upwards of 25 per cent of the nation's working force is covered by private pension plans and another 16 per cent will get retirement pay when too old to remain in government jobs or the armed services, pay that will supplement Social Security benefits.

Today, millions of you are buying your own retirement plans in a multitude of ways.

Insofar as you contribute to these various benefits, you build your individual savings.

The fear, in industry especially, is that because of these built-in measures of security, you neglect savings in the old-fashioned way.

Why is industry concerned about your savings rather than your spending?

The answer may be one that you have given little thought to, one that you are bound to hear a great deal more about in coming years. Industry, dependent upon your spending, is becoming equally dependent upon your savings.

In order to fulfill the expansion hopes and dreams of the coming decade, industry will need roughly 500 billion dollars just for new plant and equipment. More billions of dollars will be needed for research and development programs and for personnel.

Traditionally, most industries have been able to satisfy the largest portion of these capital funds they themselves generate. Traditionally, such industries as construction have been able to satisfy their capital needs with money borrowed from banks, savings and loan associations and insurance companies.

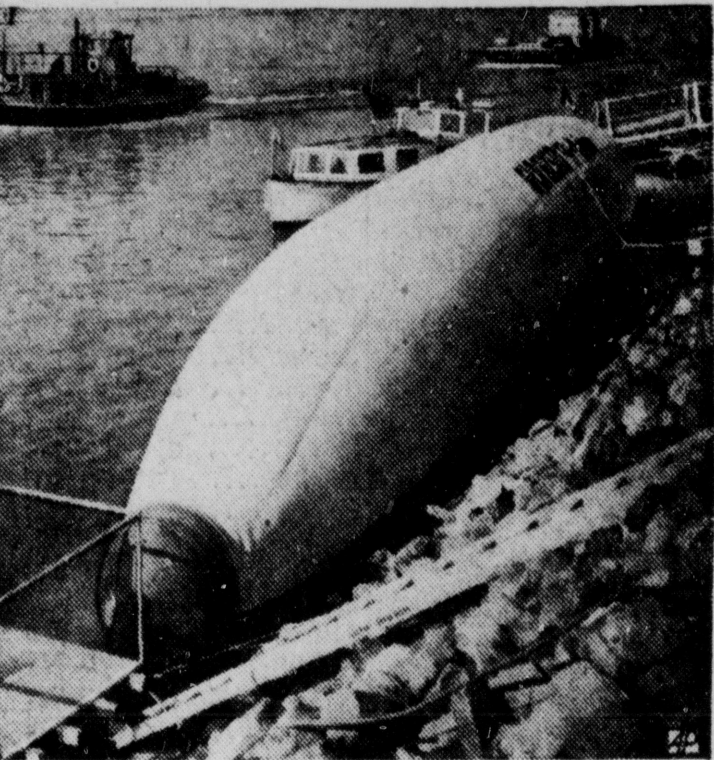

In the future, however, the need for capital will be so great that more financing must come from the money you put into banks, savings and loan associations and insurance. Competing more aggressively than ever for your savings, you will soon discover, will be industrial companies and utilities, who will woo you with pressure to partake of their new stock and bond offerings. Each of these institutions, in their bid for your aid, will try to outdo the other to make it more and more attractive, more and more worthwhile for you to entrust your savings to them.

You will have to sharpen your powers of discretion. You will also have to realize that this country was founded upon venture capital and that its growth and future will depend heavily upon your venture capital.

Newman the Producer

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Newman believes in varying his Broadway stint as the male star of "Sweet Bird of Youth." Newman between performances has been producing and directing a film based upon Anton Chekov's satiric playlet, "On the Harmfulness of Tobacco." The 20-minute short is Newman's first film-producing experience.

Year of History Paintings Shown By Mayor Radel

Paintings of Honore J. La-gasse, of Cohoes, exhibited elsewhere in the state as an adjunct to observance of the Hudson-Champlain Celebration have arrived here and are now shown in the reception room of the mayor's office, city hall.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel, who recently proclaimed "Art Week" for the occasion, said it was fitting that the 12 paintings should be exhibited "in our historic city." One is of Kingston's Senate House.

The public is invited to view the display from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. The paintings will remain here for about two weeks, the mayor said.

The local exhibit was suggested by Mayor Rudolph Roulier, of Cohoes, who is to receive the paintings as a memento when he retires from the office.

Old Personality Rinsed Out As New Hair Shade Goes In

It's downright uncanny the way we women can change our personalities every time we make a drastic change in the cut, color or condition of our crowning glory.

Let a graying 40-year-old put herself in the hands of a good hair stylist—and anything can happen.

She can become a flighty, flirty blonde with fluffy bangs if that is what she yearns to be—leaving her gray-haired personality behind with no trouble at all.

Or she can become a sleek sophisticated if she decides she wants to, suddenly developing a personality to match her new dark tresses which have been shorn and waved and brushed to make her look like a woman of chic.

Or she can let the gray hair grow long, pull it into a severe bun—and presto she is ready to start talking like a feminine egghead.

I tell you, women are changing personalities with such sudden abruptness these days, thanks to hair tinting, tipping and styling, that sometimes it's hard to recognize old friends.

Have you always thought of Sally as nice, but mousy? Well, next week she may be the life of the party.

If she just gets up the courage to change her hair to suit the personality she has always yearned for, she will somehow find the means of changing her personality, too.

It's downright amazing what it can do to a woman who has always wanted to be a blonde to suddenly become one.

Bronx Man Dies Of Burns Suffered In Upstate Blast

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A Navy man, who was burned Friday night in an explosion at an Upstate atomic laboratory, died today in Albany Hospital.

He was EN2 John E. McGowan of The Bronx.

Three other Navy men were burned, not critically, in the explosion, which wrecked part of a prototype of the nuclear submarine Triton at the West Milton Atomic Power Laboratory near Ballston Spa.

The Atomic Energy Commission said no radioactive materials escaped in the explosion. A fire that followed was brought quickly under control.

The AEC said the explosion occurred when a high pressure air line ruptured. The line operated valves in the nuclear propulsion system.

The prototype, which is used to test nuclear propulsion systems designed for submarines, is operated by the General Electric Co.

Farm Census Crew Completes Course

Ulster County census takers for the local areas in the 1958 census of agriculture have completed an intensive training course in preparation for the field canvass which started Oct. 31, it was announced today by Herbert S. DuBois, crew leader.

The training session was held at the New Paltz firehouse and was conducted by the crew leader who recently attended a five-day census training course.

The course covered the use of the census questionnaire, census definitions, interviewing and map reading. Emphasis was placed on the importance of locating every farm and obtaining complete and accurate information. The census takers conducted some actual interviews as part of the training.

Census takers who completed the training were: Bruce Wood, Esopus; Carol Davis, Hurley; Frances McDowell, Gardiner; Virginia Meuser, Lloyd; Martha Conklin, New Paltz; Helen Edler, Plattekill; Ann Gilchrist, Rosendale; Jennie Bell, Rochester; David Brundage, Shawangunk; Wesley Whittaker, Wawarsing; Joyce Wagner, Shawangunk; Dorothy Paltridge and William Collins, Marlboro; Elena Havel, Marletown, Mary Decker, Denning, and Elwyn Davis, Olive.

Deaths

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SHARON, Mass. (AP) — Henry P. Kendall, 83, chairman of the board and founder of the Kendall Co., died Tuesday. The company, a surgical dressing and tape manufacturer, has 16 plants in the United States and installations in Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

CLEBURNE, Tex. (AP) — R. L. Anderson, 81, father of Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, died Tuesday of injuries suffered in a traffic accident.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Gerald S. Weiss, 55, president and general manager of the Univis Lense Co., died Tuesday after a short illness. He was born at Nyack, N.Y.

stop at a restaurant for a spot of tea. The waiter appeared with pad and pencil.
First—"I want a glass of weak tea."
Second—"I'd like tea too, but very strong, with two pieces of lemon."
Waiter—"And you? (to the third)."
Third—"Tea for me, too, please. But be sure the glass is absolutely clean!"
In a short time the waiter was back with the order.
Waiter—"Which one, gets the clean glass?"
Son—"Mother, (getting dressed for his first date) what do you think I ought to wear with my new yellow, green and purple socks?"
Mother—"Hip boots, dear, hip boots."

Thousands Get Pensions

CHICAGO (AP)—Assets held and administered by the Methodist board of pensions now total $59,283,675, three times the amount of 10 years ago, the board reports. It says more than 14,500 retired ministers, ministers' widows and dependent children will receive an estimated $16,600,000 from the fund in 1959-60.

Weed Menaces Oysters

NEPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—A weed that grows from the bottom of waters and mats at the surface is becoming a menace to oysters in Chesapeake Bay. The plant, a foreign species of water milfoil, was first noticed in the Potomac River near Washington. Scientists say they don't know how it got into regional waters.

Methodist Group On Evangelism Reviews Results

The Commission on Membership and Evangelism of Saugerties Methodist Church, James Thompson chairman, met Tuesday night at 7:30 in the parish house to review the results of the recent United Evangelistic Mission.

It was reported that 40 workers had made about 100 calls and secured 24 commitments for Christ and his church. Of these, four will join the church on December 6, by profession of faith, and 20 will join by transfer of letter.

Many homes renewed their interest in the church and delayed a final commitment until Lent of next year. In the New York Conference (which includes the area between New York City and Albany) there were 3,731 visitors making 7,082 interviews. Total commitments were 2,252.

It was pointed out by the pastor, the Rev. George Werner, that the important emphasis was not upon statistics, but upon the deepening of spiritual life within the church. The early morning worship service which was started last Sunday at 8:45, was attended by 48 people, a good beginning for the early service.

Those who will join the church on December 6, are invited to attend a membership training class on Sunday nights of Nov. 22 and 29 at 7:30 in the chapel. Film strips will be used to present the work of the Methodist Church.

The Sacrament of Holy Baptism will also be given on December 6.

The commission chairman thanked the committee chairman for their work during the UEM: Milton Armstrong, publicity; Donald Leard, workers; Isabel Myer, spiritual life and preparation; Mrs. Lewis Fellows, hostess, and John Whittenor, prospective members.

Future Concerts Will Depend On Response Friday

Public response to the Tri-City Pops concert Friday at 8:45 p. m. in Saugerties High School Auditorium will be used as a guide for possible future undertakings of this type, Saugerties Jaycees made known today.

While the response to date has been encouraging, Friday night will tell whether the residents of the area are willing to support outstanding programs of this type.

The Jaycees believe there is a definite audience for this kind of program, and that people would rather see it imported into the area than have to travel hundreds of miles to larger cities.

A Jaycee committee spokesman said that if the response is outstanding, plans for more elaborate programs would receive the support of the local organization.

Friday's program is just a sample of what is available at minimum admission prices. Contact has been made with a top show-business personality who is extremely interested in doing a show in this area if the results indicate the people of the area would support the project.

The conductor of the Tri-City orchestra is known for his work as conductor of the Albany Symphony orchestra and as founder of the Tri-City orchestra. The guest soloist, Jon Besson has an impressive background with the Netherlands Opera Co., as well as frequent concert appearances in this country.

Tickets are available in Saugerties at Bank's Stationery or Joseph's Beauty Salon on Main Street or at the door. Tickets are also available in Kingston at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Gov. Clinton Hotel, or at Rossi's Music Store on N. Front Street.

Tickets are still available for Friday night, student tickets are on sale at half-price.

Former Resident Named To US Army News Staff

Army Specialist Fourth Class William F. Wright, a one-time resident of Saugerties, is an official U. S. Army news correspondent for the Pentomic 7th Infantry Division in Korea.

He writes and edits for the Bayonet newspaper, a weekly publication of the Division Information Office. His articles also appear in the daily Pacific Stars & Stripes and the Army Times.

Specialist Wright, who has been in Korea since October, 1958, is the brother of Mrs. James C. Coffey of Barclay Heights, Saugerties.

The 24-year-old Army reporter attended Sienna College, Loudonville, N. Y., and subsequently New Paltz Teachers College where he majored in Art Education. He was inducted into the service in Feb., 1957 at Kingston.

Wright will be reassigned in November on civilian component duty as a reporter-editor with the widely-read Stars & Stripes in Tokyo, Japan.

No newcomer to the journalism field, Wright was sports editor for a daily English language newspaper in Caracas, Venezuela. He has covered stories for Sporting News, Sports Illustrated and Times Magazine.

His brother-in-law, James C. Coffey is the Kingston District representative for the Upjohn Company of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Landmark Gone

CROPSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—The "big blue stone," a landmark boulder, is gone, along with the man who inscribed on it the words "Peaceful Valley."

Walter N. Goyer of Cropsville, who wrote the words and signed his name years ago, committed suicide earlier this year. The boulder, apparently eroded by weather, crashed from its bluff recently to the edge of Route 2 in this community northeast of Troy. Highway officials ordered it removed.

Lomontville

LYONSVILLE — The Lyonsville Community Club will sponsor its annual card party Nov. 7 at 8 p. m. Awards will be given and refreshments served. The public may attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haas entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeFranco at their home last Sunday evening.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Some of the glamor has rubbed off the mechanical brain. But business is fast learning how to make it a practical tool.

The early romantic notion that electronic computers would produce the automatic office, settling all problems in a jiffy, and even making decisions for executives, hasn't panned out quite that way.

But by the trial and error method the big companies who use the giant machines have learned how to tame them and turn them into highly useful servants.

Still Needs People

And a new class of clerical labor has developed—because the mechanical brain doesn't operate without prodding by men and women, who still have to do much of its thinking for it, both before and after use.

A study of the experience of 17 large companies who use the computers has been made for the Controllers Institute Research Foundation.

It shows the giant brains can be headaches as well as helpers. And it lists the pitfalls of performance and costs awaiting the unwary, but also the real gains when too much isn't expected and when the expense is justified.

The report prepared by Price Waterhouse, a management advisory service, makes these chief points:

Waterhouse Reports

The electrical data processing system requires a large and relatively constant flow of incoming data.

A fairly large clerical force must check the validity and accuracy of source documents and convert data into forms the machine can use. The dream of an automatic office with few clerks seems far off.

Companies find there is a definite point when it is uneconomical to turn some programs over to the machine. This is particularly true when there are many exceptions to the general routines. In that case manual handling is cheaper.

Decisions which the mechanical brains make are usually of the simple, semiclerical variety. Company executives report the major and most minor decisions must still be made by management.

The report also warns against too ambitious an approach in turning over all problems to machines. It says this can lead to many operational difficulties and much higher initial operating costs.

The 17 companies studied include firms in the manufacturing, utility, railroad, shipping, insurance, hospital and stock brokerage fields.

Ask Flood Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrial organizations want the Eisenhower administration to support spending of almost 125 million dollars next year on flood-control projects.

Among the recommendations, made Tuesday were:

Continued construction of flood-control reservoirs on the Allegheny River in Pennsylvania and New York, $5,000,000.

Advance engineering and design of local protection projects on Lake Chautauqua, N. Y., $50,000.

Innocent Plea Made for Woman Charged in C-H Fund Shortage

Mrs. Doris May Schelling, 28, of RFD 1, Box 470, Saugerties, charged with grand larceny, first and second degree involving an alleged shortage of between $5,000 and $10,000 of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation funds was among the 41 defendants arraigned in Ulster County Court Monday afternoon.

Arraignment was by District Attorney Raymond J. Mino under indictments recently returned by a grand jury.

Attorney G. Thomas Rea Jr., of Saugerties, appeared for Mrs. Schelling, entered a plea of innocent, and asked 15 days for motions, a copy of the indictment and continuance of $1,000 bail.

Over Two-Year Period

At the time of the arrest, Aug. 18, District Attorney Mino said the case had been under investigation since August 5, when officials of the utility corporation reported alleged shortages in company funds where Mrs. Schelling was an employee. The district attorney said that the discrepancies in funds came to light while Mrs. Schelling was on vacation.

Mino said the alleged thefts took place over a period of the last two years. Mrs. Schelling had been employed by Central Hudson at the Saugerties office since February 1951.

In addition there were several other cases in which the defendants failed to appear after notice and bench warrants were issued. They will be arraigned later. Several cases already on the criminal calendar were set down for today at 11 a. m.

The civil calendar was also called and County Judge Louis G. Bruhn made up a day calendar for Nov. 16, to follow the criminal work.

Other arraignments were. Rudi Hohenberger, Kingston, leaving the scene of an accident. Joseph Avis appeared for defendant, asked for 10 days for motions, a copy of the indictment and for continuance of bail. A plea of innocent was entered.

Tyrone Augustus Jones, grand larceny, first degree; criminally concealing and withholding stolen and wrongfully acquired property. Charles Saccoman appeared, asked for 20 days for motions, continuance of bail. A plea of innocent was entered.

Robert Frank Schoonmaker, burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and petit larceny. Charles Saccoman appeared and was granted 20 days for motions, continuance of bail. A plea of innocent to the charge alleged to have been committed August 16, was entered.

Edward Nelson Houghtaling, burglary, third degree; unlawful entry, and petit larceny, alleged to have been committed on Aug. 16, last. Robert Ortale is counsel for defendant. A plea of innocent was entered and 20 days granted for motions. Bail was continued.

Steve Dorsey, criminally possessing a pistol, John J. Schick appeared for defendant and asked for a week's adjournment for arraignment. Granted.

Justus Ralph Taylor, criminally possessing a pistol, alleged to have been committed last July. Charles Saccoman appeared and was granted a 20 days for motions. A plea of innocent was entered and bail continued.

Paul Garanes, criminal possession of a pistol, John J. Schick appeared for defendant and was granted 20 days for motions and continuance of bail.

Other Cases

Leonard Adam LaFera, burglary, third degree, and petit larceny. William Curran appeared and requested the defendant be treated under the Youthful Offender Law, he being 19 years of age. The indictment was ordered sealed and defendant will be treated under the Youthful Offender Law.

Stephen Robbins, burglary, third degree, and petit larceny. Howard C. St. John appeared for defendant, who is 16 and will be treated under the Youthful Offender Law. Indictment sealed.

Donald Wallace, assault, second degree. Charles Saccoman appeared and requested a week's adjournment. Granted.

Gabriel Morales, Anastasio Jardon and Antonio Benitez, all charged with unlawful possession of a narcotic drug, were represented by Charles Saccoman. A plea of innocent was entered. Bail was continued and 20 days granted for motions. Reading of the indictment was waived.

Louis Blas, burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and grand larceny, second degree. Joseph Avis appeared for defendant and was granted 20 days for motions. Bail continued. Innocent plea entered.

Waives Reading

Anson Lester Curtis, assault, third degree. Charles Saccoman appeared and waived reading of indictment. A plea of innocent was entered, bail continued and 20 days granted for motions.

More Witnesses To Testify at Power Hearing

Associated Press Special Service WASHINGTON (AP) — The St. Lawrence Gas Co. Inc., called more witnesses for cross examination today at a federal power commission hearing on applications to provide natural gas service in Northern New York.

Scheduled to testify were Walter G. Comin, a vice president of the New York State Natural Gas Corp., T. C. Moran, gas department supervisor for the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. and Burton C. Carpenter, rates manager for Niagara Mohawk.

St. Lawrence Gas, of Ogdensburg, wants to import natural gas from Canada for sale in the Massena-Ogdensburg area.

New York State Natural, of Pittsburgh, Pa., is seeking FPC authority to sell gas to Niagara Mohawk, a Syracuse, N. Y., firm, for re-sale in the same area.

The hearing has been in recess since last Friday to allow attorneys and other New York witnesses time to vote in Tuesday's New York election.

Indian Folklore Will Be Subject of Talk For Holland Society

On Saturday evening, Nov. 21, the members of the Ulster County Branch of the Holland Society of New York will hold their annual dinner meeting at the Mountain Crest House, Gardiner. Mountain Crest House is located on Route 44-55, about two miles west of Gardiner.

Members of other branches and guests have been invited. The reception will be held at 6:30 p. m., followed by dinner at 7:30. A short meeting will precede introduction of Alfred Douglas who will entertain the members with Indian Folk Lore and Dances.

Mr. Douglas, who resides in New Paltz, has spent a great deal of time in perfecting his knowledge of the Indians of North America, especially those of the Iroquois Nation and the Cherokee. The few remaining people of the Esopus (Indians of our own area) joined with the Cherokee about the time of the American Revolution.

Members are urged to inform the Secretary of the Branch, Kenneth E. Hasbrouck, not later than Nov. 19, about reservations for the dinner.

'Messiah' Will Be Presented at Old Dutch Church on Sunday, November 29 at 7:45

The "Messiah" will be presented at the Old Dutch Church at 7:45 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 29, by the Senior Choirs of the Old Dutch Church and the Webb Horton Memorial Presbyterian Church of Middletown.

Gerald Anderson, minister of music of the Old Dutch Church, will direct the performance. Organist will be John Davis who plays the organ and directs the cadet choir at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point.

Mr. Davis, a graduate of the Westminster Choir College, is a well-known recitalist, appearing throughout the country. He will give a short recital preceding the "Messiah."

Soloists will be Gloria Simmons, soprano; Collette Sonnenberg, alto; Alan Vogt, tenor and Irving Levine, bass.

There will be a rehearsal of both choirs in the afternoon of Nov. 29, Mrs. Anderson said.

The Senior Choir of the Old Dutch Church will go to Middletown Dec. 13 to assist in the presentation of the "Messiah" at the Webb Horton Church.

Hubens Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Huben have returned to their home in Rosendale after an European trip which took them through 11 countries. Prior to retirement, Mr. Huben was associated with the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation. For a number of years he was active in resort and travel associations locally and throughout the State of New York. He was an official of the Ulster-Greene Vacationland Association and also held office in the State Travel Council.

Arriving in Ireland by Pan-Am plane Mr. and Mrs. Huben visited England, Holland, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, France, Spain, Belgium and Scotland. They arrived in Holland the same day the Crown Princess was visiting Kingston. They arrived home Monday by Pan-American Jet which was scheduled under a seven-hour flight. Due to bad weather the plane detoured to the Azores for re-fueling, making the return trip in 10 1/2 hours.

Although the beauties of the Alps, French resorts, Paris, Madrid and London were thoroughly enjoyed, Mr. and Mrs. Huben today said they were delighted to be back in Ulster County again.

Saugerties Monday Club Hears Review Of Burroughs Book

The Saugerties Monday Club met this week at the home of Mrs. Robert Emery, Spaulding Lane, at which time Miss Elsie C. York gave an interesting book review on the biography, "John Burroughs: Naturalist," written by his granddaughter, Elizabeth Burroughs Kelley. Mrs. York's review was given as follows:

"In this Year of History of the Hudson Valley, it is well to recall noted people who have helped in its growth and importance. One of these was John Burroughs who was born in Roxbury, in 1836, but from young manhood lived on the Hudson, near West Park. His home, Riverby, he helped to build from native stone, and woods from the nearby forests."

In reviewing the book, Mrs. York went on to relate "To dwellers of this valley it is most interesting for it brings out the river life in those days."

"Today we look at the Hudson as a beautiful expanse of water, flowing gently to the ocean, but in Mr. Burroughs' time it was the only means of travel on the west bank, except some narrow winding dirt roads. River boats plied up and down daily, leaving mail and provisions and freight at the many docks. During the winter there was ice boating and skating. The harvesting of the ice into the large ice houses brought an added interest not known today. In the spring out came the nets, and fishing, especially for shad, was started."

"John Burroughs was a lover of nature and a student of all out door life. He wrote many books and essays. One of his first writings is 'Wake Robin' and one of his widely known poems is 'Waiting' which also has been set to music."

"Seaside, a cabin in the foot hills above West Park was his retreat, but where he was sought out by groups from schools and colleges as well as noted figures such as Walt Whitman, Oscar Wilde, Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone and others. Theodore Roosevelt came by yacht to visit with him, for in nature they had much in common."

Mrs. York ended her review by saying that "it is well to pause and pay tribute to a Hudson valley citizen, whose death occurred in 1921 and who is buried on his boyhood farm in Roxbury."

The next meeting of the Monday Club will be held Nov. 9, at Arrowhead, the home of Mrs. Fabian Russell.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Let's Face It, Grandma
Just Doesn't Like You

Greg's Grandmother hadn't seen him in several years. So he was quite pleased when she finally came to visit. But she seemed less pleased to see him. Though she kissed him, told him he'd grown and gave the best microscope-set he'd ever seen, it was his little brother she paid the real attention to.

As Tommy strutted about in the cowboy outfit she'd brought him, she kept saying delightedly to Greg's father, "He's a real Benson, Bill! Just look at that jaw. It's exactly like yours and Papa's. He's certainly a Benson all right. You don't have to worry about him. He'll make his mark in the world..."

After a while Greg quietly retreated to the kitchen with his microscope. There, as he struggled to bring a fly's wing into better focus, he also struggled with worry about the jaw that made him into a false Benson doomed to make no mark in the world. Knowing what he was up to, his mother followed him.

And, instead of avoiding the obviously painful subject of Grandma's partiality, brought it up. Peering over his shoulder at the fly's wing, she said:

"Yes, darling, Grandma likes Tommy better than you. And you like maple walnut ice cream better than strawberry. We don't all have to have the same kind of jaws any more than we have to eat the same kind of ice cream. That's the nice part of being a person in a family. We're all different from each other."

Too often I think we try to protect a child against hurt by a relative's partiality for his brother. We either try to get Grandma to control her preference for Tommy or to persuade Greg she doesn't feel it. We don't succeed, of course. Grandma can't help showing her partiality and Greg can't help feeling hurt by it. So it's kinder to face the fact of the hurtful partiality with him than to leave him alone with it by pretending it doesn't exist.

Always, a relative's partiality hurts a child through his own fear of being different.

So this fear is what we work on. It is an irrational one; and the clearer we are on this, the less anxious job we'll do. The more clearly we see how impossible it is for Greg to ever duplicate Tommy, his looks, his skills or experiences, the more helpful we'll be with the frustration involved in Greg's wishes to be what he can't be.

UNCERTAINTY

Dear Mrs. Post: Three times during this past spring I received a letter from a friend in another city inviting my husband, my children and myself to visit her and her family. She also phoned long distance early in the summer to ask when we were coming and seemed quite eager to have us visit her. She said to come whenever we could make it. As our vacation time was the same as hers, she would be away, we changed the date of our vacation until now so that we could spend several days with her. I wrote her a month ago asking if the date we chose was suitable to her. She hasn't answered my letter nor have we heard from her in any way. Under the circumstances, should we write or phone to ask if she is still expecting us, or just cancel the visit without saying anything more?

Answer: Your letter or her answer may have been lost, and you most certainly should telephone and ask if she is expecting you.

Bride Has No Male Relative

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married shortly. My father is dead and I have no brothers or near male relative to give me away. Will you please tell me if it would be proper to have my fiancé's father walk up the aisle with me? I do not want to walk up the aisle alone as it seems so forlorn. Will you please give me your opinion on this?

Answer: It will be most unusual, but there is no reason why you may not have your fiancé's father give you away if you would like him to.

May She Keep Charm Bracelet?

Dear Mrs. Post: For the past year I have been seeing a young man quite steadily. We are not engaged. For my birthday he gave me a gold charm bracelet. I would like to know if I should return the bracelet now that I

AAUW Will Sponsor Panel of Historians At November Meeting

One of the last activities in the current Hudson-Champlain Celebration will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 8 p. m., in the music room of the George Washington School.

Mrs. John J. Erickson, program chairman for the Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women, announced that the organization will sponsor a panel of well-known local historians to discuss different aspects of this area's history.

Mrs. Albert S. Kerr of New Paltz, a candidate for the State Senate from this area, will moderate the group. Panelists include Miss Pauline Hommel of Saugerties, the village historian; Mrs. Stephen Waligurski of Hurley, author of the Hurley Cantata and editor of "Kitchen Kase"; Miss Agnes Scott Smith of Kingston, history teacher at Kingston High School and member of the New York State Folklore Society; and Alf Evers of Woodstock, well-known author of children's books and an interpreter of folklore of this area.

The Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women cordially invites the public to enjoy this most interesting and informative evening.

American Art Week Observance in Kingston Schools; Teachers Welcome Visitors

The week of November 1-7 is set aside as American Art Week, a time when emphasis is given the art education in our Kingston Schools.

Art is a vitally important part of the curriculum in that it contributes directly to the enrichment of the entire learning process. It affords creative experience, developing the ability to think creatively, not only in the sphere of art expression itself but in countless other learning situations. The kind of art consciousness a child derives from his art experiences in school determines, in large part, the level of culture in the generation to come.

Children in the elementary grades have a wide variety of experiences in painting, drawing and the crafts. Integrated with these activities is the learning of skills appropriate to the grade level and the introduction of art appreciation, particularly in the fifth and sixth grades. The child explores the many ways he can express his own ideas about the world around him. He becomes increasingly aware of art as it applies to everyday life.

At the Junior High level the student continues his art activities with increased emphasis on art appreciation, more complex craftwork and pictorial expression amplified by study of the principles of design and color and perspective. Art projects are tied in with the common experiences in children's lives such as home decoration, wearing apparel, gardens, science, natural history, etc.

Art becomes an elective subject at the high school level. The Basic Art course is required of all students who elect art. This lays a foundation which includes the principles and elements of design, color theory, perspective, and composition. The student is afforded full opportunity to experiment with and to learn the peculiarities of a variety of media. Emphasis is always placed on the importance of individual expression. When the Basic Art course has been completed satisfactorily, the student may elect any one of six specialized courses suited to his needs and interests. These courses include: Art History, Contemporary Painting, Costume Design, Drawing and Painting, Advertising Design and General Crafts.

During the observance of American Art Week, the faculty of our Kingston Schools Art Department extends a cordial invitation to parents and those interested in the art program to visit the art classes. It is a fine opportunity to see art education in action.

Circus Sells Winter Quarters in South

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The 157-acre winter quarters of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus has been sold for $340,000 to a real estate development firm.

A spokesman said the circus is seeking a smaller tract on which to locate its winter quarters.

Much of the equipment and many of the animals were sold last year following the change from the big tent to the present more compact format.

It is estimated Americans consumed 32 billion bottles of soft drinks in 1958, or 184 bottles per person.

Frances Frick Weds Walter A. Lofink At Walden Church

Miss Frances Frick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frick of Wallkill, wed Walter A. Lofink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Lofink of Modena, in a double ring ceremony on October 25 at Trinity Lutheran Church, Walden.

Henry Behling was organist. Attendants were Mrs. James Russo of Walden and James Russo.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of nylon tulle and French imported Chantilly lace styled with an illusion neckline trimmed with lace and sequins, bouffant skirt of pleated tulle, ballerina length, with lace appliques. A queen's crown of pearls and sequins held a French illusion fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of white chrysanthemums.

The honor attendant wore a ballerina length gown of Dior blue starched nylon over taffeta with detachable stole and fitted shirred bodice. The bouffant skirt was appliqued with lace. A Dior blue crown trimmed with seed pearls held a circular veil. She carried a cascade of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

A reception was given at the Mona-Ray Restaurant in Newburgh. Guests from California, Brooklyn, Queens, Walden, Wallkill and Modena attended.

The bride was graduated from Wallkill Central High School and is employed by the Spence Engineering Company in Walden. Her husband, an alumnus of Newton High School, Elmhurst, L. I., is engaged in construction work in New York City.

When Mr. and Mrs. Lofink return from their trip to Niagara Falls, they will reside in Modena.

Sheath Line Lends Grace to Wearer

The ball gown in the grand manner, as done by Dorothy O'Hara, places emphasis on molded lines and superb fabrics. And though skirts are slim, they are artfully manipulated to allow for dancing ease. American beauty silk brocade (left) is carved into a stem-like gown, side-swept at the bodice. Top is beautifully draped. Regal silver-and-gold brocade in royal medallion motif is used (center) to accent this gown of ivory satin. The brocade forms bodice and flowing back panels. Panels are worn here stole-fashion. YWCA World Fellowship Week Nov. 8-14; Observance Opens Sunday With Service

YWCA's in more than 1600 communities in the United States, including Kingston, and in the 60 other countries where there is Association work, will observe World Fellowship Week, Nov. 8-14.

The week will be a time for commemorating the world-wide work of the YWCA in behalf of girls and young women. Opening event of the local celebration will be a World Fellowship Service which will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the YWCA.

Mrs. Lewis Short and Mrs. Merrill Yaple, co-chairmen will be in charge of the World Fellowship program. Mrs. Elwood Robinson, membership chairman, and Mrs. Marshall Winchell, hospitality chairman, are in charge of the membership tea which will follow the program.

Foreign exchange students from New Paltz University and foreign resident doctors of Kingston will be honored guests. Fredric Snyder, lecturer, will be the featured speaker. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

In keeping with the custom started in 1948, the YWCA of the USA will keynote the American celebration with an observance in the Washington, D. C. Cathedral. Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, a leading Methodist layman and former president of the Ohio Wesleyan University, will be the speaker. His address will be based on the theme of this year's World Fellowship Observance, "Make Known His Deeds."

As a highlight of the national and international observance, Y-Teens, the 12 to 17-year-old members of the YWCA, representing each state of the union, will participate in a gift bringing ceremony at the Washington Cathedral. The gifts will include contributions of YWCA members in the United States to strengthen World Fellowship and to aid YWCA work in countries overseas.

World Fellowship is observed annually in November by the YWCA. It is a special time for prayers for peace and rededication to the Christian purpose of the YWCA.

Throughout the week in Kingston, there will be observances to help interpret the work of the YWCA's Foreign Division. Each Y-Teen Club is planning special programs. Every YWCA member is being given the opportunity to give to the World Fellowship Fund through which the Foreign Division of the YWCA National Board of the USA is enabled to assist Associations in 27 countries.

Wasps Gone Anyway

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A group of carpenters working at the Elmo Apartments Tuesday found themselves stymied by a wasp nest.

They set fire to a rolled up newspaper and tried to burn out the nest. The fire quickly spread along the roof of the three-story building.

Before firemen could put out the fire, it had damaged five apartments. But all was not lost. The carpenters got rid of the wasps.

The Case of the Vanishing Railroad Depot—

One sign of the changes that are taking place among the nation's railroads is the demise of the old familiar landmark, the local depot. Dwindling passenger traffic and rising real estate taxes have resulted in a small boom in used stations as hundreds of them have been torn down, sold or donated to community purposes. In most cases, the old buildings, still in good condition, are finding new usefulness as homes, stores, office buildings or recreation centers. What's happened to a few of them around the country is shown in photographs below.

Former Chesapeake and Ohio station at Bay View, Mich., got a new lease on life when it was turned into a gift shop. White paint was impractical in days of smoke-gushing steam engines.

New York, New Haven and Hartford station now is home of Waterbury (Conn.) Republican-American newspaper offices.

The last passenger has bought his ticket at this Illinois Central station in Flossmoor, Ill. Girl Scouts now use it.

Before and after photos show how a 105-year-old Reading Co. scale house was transformed into a home in Pine Grove, Pa.

C & O terminal in Bay City, Mich., has become the heart of a large shopping center, housing a supermarket, bus station and restaurant. Asphalt and automobiles instead of steel rails and chugging locomotives surround the building now.

Mrs. Rockefeller Among Major GOP Contributors

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, wife of the New York governor, was among 36 major Empire State contributors to the Republican National Committee during the third quarter of 1959.

House records showed today that Mrs. Rockefeller contributed $500 during the three months ended Aug. 31. She gave her address as 810 Fifth Ave., New York City.

35 With $100 or More
Thirty-five other New Yorkers gave $100 or more to the national GOP during that period.

Only 21 persons and groups from New York gave to the Democratic National Committee for the three months but their gifts total $40,315.92 compared with a GOP total of $22,400.

There were only seven Upstate residents—three Democrats and four Republicans—among the contributors.

17 Gave $1,000

The largest Democratic gift was $17,914.40 from the New York committee for Special Democratic Projects. Seventeen persons gave $1,000 to the national GOP.

The political parties must report all contributions and disbursements to Congress under the corrupt practices act of 1925 and later legislation.

Upstate residents who contributed $100 or more to the Democratic National Committee during the quarter were:
John S. Stillman, Cornwall-on-Hudson, $1,000; Mrs. Alice Wood Wynd, Pittsburg, $100; and William H. Morgan, Homer, $300.

Upstate Contributors to the Republican National Committee were:

John R. Oishei, Buffalo, $1,000; Neil O. Broderson, Rochester, $250; R. R. Pass, Syracuse, $200; and John J. Picard, chaplain, $100.

Other contributors to the Democratic National Committee included Miss Laura Hoyle Davis, Mincola, $101.52; and these persons and groups in New York City:

Donald B. Straus, $1,000; R. Peter Straus, $1,000; New York

Diamond Jubilee Committee, $8,000; Mrs. Thomas B. Hess, $1,000; Walter G. Dunnington, $1,000; S. Van Berg, $1,000; Marietta Tree, $1,000;
Henry Garfinkle, $1,000; Warren Lee Pierson, $1,000; Abraham Feinberg, $1,000; James S. Hays, $1,000; Mrs. Helen Kelly Rand, $1,000; Col. Harry D. Henshel, $1,000; Bernard Bernstein, $500; Crane Hausseman, $1,000; and Seymour W. Miller, $100.

Other Donors

Other contributors to the Republican National Committee included Miss Grace I. Brown, Hicksville, $1,000; Robert O. Olmsted, Mineola, $100; and these persons in New York City:

William H. Stevens, $1,000; Alexander N. Laughlin, $1,000; William H. Beinecke, $1,000; Lyle L. Shepard, $1,000; Richardson Pratt, $300; Clarence Francis, $1,000; Christopher T. Chenary, $1,000.

Robert H. Christenberry, $1,000; George S. Young, $100; Maxwell M. Upson, $1,000; L. F. McCollum, $1,000; Paul Felix Warburg, $1,000; E. A. Newberry, $1,000; Frederick R. Keppel, $500; Edward A. O'Neal Jr., $1,000; James Comerford, $300; William E. Robinson, $1,000; Luther Cleveland, $500; Roy E. Larson, $250; John H. Hinnan, $500; Philip Spor, $200; Roland Harriman, $1,000.

Clarence Meyers, $200; Bayard F. Pope, $100; W. G. Malcolm, $1,000; Richard Doane, $300; William H. Moore, $500; H. W. Page, $100; and Frederick W. Ecker, $400.

Short Boy Long On Talent in TV Dean Martin Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rover boys, Frankie and Dino, turned up again Tuesday night.

A couple of weeks ago, it was the Frank Sinatra show; this time it was the Dean Martin show. If the boys keep up their busy schedule of visiting around on musical specials we will await their appearances with the same keen anticipation we accord the fastest gun in the West.

Martin also played host to Mickey Rooney, who, in a couple of singing and dancing numbers, displayed considerable talent as an entertainer. The two singing stars acquitted themselves professionally when they were singing old songs, but the show sagged mournfully in the gay banter department. It was a ragged show—nowhere near the standard set by Perry Como's and Dinah Shore's non-special weekly shows.

While the television industry is discussing the pros and cons of a czar to prevent a repetition of the current quiz show scandals, they might also consider an arbiter of good taste. He should have the power to banish commercials which go outside the bounds of subjects normally discussed in the living room by mixed company.

Jack Benny's CBS special Saturday night gives Perry Mason a week off by pre-empting the mystery show's time slot. Part of the special will be a re-run of a bit Jack played with a troupe of monkeys last March. Jackie Gleason, who with Arthur Godfrey started a TV vogue for conversation last year, will match wits with Irish playwright and playboy Brendan Behan and lecturer John Mason Brown next Sunday on Ed Murrow's "Small World".

Israel, Egypt Planes Engage In Short Fight

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli and Egyptian planes fought a short air battle today at 23,000 feet over the central Negev Desert, an Israeli army spokesman said.

Four Egyptian MIGs—Soviet-jet fighters—penetrated 15 to 20 miles into Israeli air space from the Sinai Desert before being intercepted, the spokesman said.

He added that all Israeli planes returned safely to base. There was no report that any of the Egyptian planes was hit.

The incident was reported to the U. N. truce supervision commission.

Can Hurl Atlas 6,300 Miles on 15-Minute Notice

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—An Atlas missile can be hurled up to 6,300 miles on 15 minutes notice from Vandenberg Air Force Base.

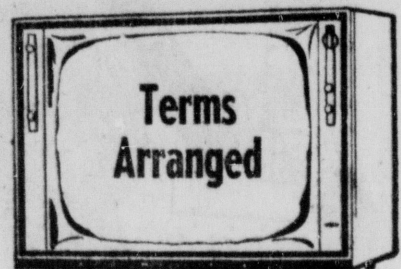

Maj. Gen. David Wade, commander of the 1st Missile Division, said this in a speech to the Inland Empire Waterways Assn. Tuesday.

An Atlas unit is the first intercontinental ballistic missile squadron to reach combat readiness, he said, and has been integrated into the Strategic Air Command emergency war plan.

The Atlas, Titan and Minuteman programs at the California base, the general said, "represent SAC's first step into the realm of space. As the springboard for that step, Vandenberg is becoming an aerospace center of the nation." The average Atlas squadron consists of nine launching pads. But only three are ready to fire at Vandenberg and six other pads are under construction.

Wade conceded that America's missile progress, compared to the Soviet Union's, has lagged in the past decade.

USC Head Apologizes For McKeever Incident

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California is anxious for the Big Five to study its charges of deliberate roughness by USC All-America candidate Mike McKeever.

University President Clark Kerr and Chancellor Glenn T. Seaborg, in a formal statement Tuesday night, charged the 218-pound line-man with purposely injuring Cal halfback Steve Bates in Saturday's game here.

They said they had viewed films of the game carefully with USC President Norman Topping and Vice President Francis Tappan, and added that they expected USC officials to take appropriate action.

Formal Apology
After returning to Los Angeles, Dr. Topping met with USC's Faculty Athletic Committee and then issued a formal apology.

"This, as well as other incidents in the game, we feel could have been avoided. To the extent that we are responsible, we apologize. We will insist that our team play good, hard, but clean football.

The coaches are instructed to see that this policy is followed."

USC Coach Don Clark and McKeever had denied charges that McKeever deliberately struck 175-pound Bates with his elbow in falling on him along the sidelines after the whistle had blown.

Bates suffered a shattered cheek bone and broken nose. His face still is so swollen an operation has been postponed.

California's Kerr and Seaborg, in their statement, cited other instances involving McKeever. They specifically named the previous week's USC-Stanford game and last year's Cal-USC game.

McKeever was ousted from Saturday's game — won by USC 14-7 — but for roughing up Bear quarterback Pete Olson after Bates

Keating Gets 3 Touchdowns To Pace Locals

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Putting forth their best of defensive showing of the season, the Kingston High School football players roared to a convincing 27-14 triumph over Vincentian Institute of Albany before a slim and freezing crowd yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

Senior halfback Bob Keating gave his best performance to date with three touchdowns in only a half. He was injured late in the second quarter and did not return to action. Keating had the first three KHS touchdowns and Quarterback Cliff Miller tallied the other one.

The ground attack, which chewed up 264 yards of stadium terrain, more than offset several defensive lapses on pass defense which gave the visitors scores in the second and fourth quarters, despite the fact they were able to muster but 23 yards along the ground.

The locals are now 2-2 for the season and have a meeting with rugged Mont Pleasant of Schenectady Saturday afternoon. The dethroned Diocesan League champions have a 2-4 mark this year.

The visitors won the toss and elected to receive. However, they failed to gain and on fourth down were forced to punt. Halfback Terry Kelly (and what a sparkling performance he gave) took the punt on the 38 and ran to the VI 31 before he was shoved out of bounds. From there it took the Maroon players only three shots at the line to score.

Richie Sickler ran for seven and then fullback Bob Decker lugged the pigskin to the 17 before he was stopped. Keating then took it the rest of the way on an off-tackle slant.

Late in the first period, KHS put a punt in play on the 35 and Keating galloped 28 yards on the third play of the second period to tally his second touchdown. Big gainers in the drive were a 10 yard dash by Keating and a run of 16 yards by Sickler. Bob Jenkins then booted the PAT to up the margin to 14-0.

Corkery Recovers

Later in the period, Terry Corkery, a defensive standout, pounced on a Vincentian fumble on the VI 12 and the game swung open again. On fourth down from the eight, Miller pegged to Keating in the corner near the end zone. He caught it for his third score of the afternoon. Jenkins' attempted placement was low.

The visitors put their aerial show to work just before half-time and some fancy passing and running netted them a score. After putting the kickoff in play on the 40, quarterback John Siegrist tossed 28 yards to Dan Lynch.

After halfback Joe DeFrancisco bulled his way for a pair of yards, Siegrist threw to end Kevin Carmody. He caught it on the KHS 20 and then lateraled to Lynch, who took it the rest of the way to paydirt. DeFrancisco circled and for the extra point.

Kingston roared to the Vincentian 20 but time ran out before the team could get any closer.

After a scoreless third period, the Maroon players took over on downs early in the fourth stanza on their own 46 and they went 54 yards in eight plays.

Takes Up Slack
Kelly, who took up the slack left by Keating's injury, ran 22 for a first down on the VI 32. Then it was Decker for a yard, Sickler for eight more and Miller for a first down to the 19.

Kelly banged for three and Decker for nine and another first down on the seven. From there it was Kelly for six to the one and Miller into the end zone on a sneak. Jenkins booted the point.

The losers had one aerial act left. They put the kickoff in play on the 40 and Siegrist completed a pass to Dick Titch on the KHS 36. Four plays later, sub quarterback John Slattery tossed a short screen pass to Titch. He escaped several tacklers and rambled 36 yards for a score. DeFrancisco ran for the point.

Kingston, with Kelly showing the way, charged down to the VI five yard line before the time ran out with a second down and goal situation coming up.

The Maroon forward wall, with Corkery and Pete Leeds in starring roles, held the visitors to a paltry 23 yards along the turf.

Vols Are Picked to Stop LSU; Orange Choice Over Pa. State

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, (AP)—Results of Tuesday's general elections included these winners (last week the record was 40 winners among 55 candidates for a .727 average): Tennessee over Louisiana State; the Tigers reached their emotional peak of the season last Saturday in their 7-3 victory over Mississippi. Now they must go against the gridiron's toughest single-wing team. The Vols will be too much for them.

Northwestern over Wisconsin: Much attention has been paid to Northwestern's wealth of backs but take a gander at those Wildcat linemen. They are tough too.

Texas over Baylor: The Longhorns have yielded only five touchdowns in seven games—if you can't score, how can you beat them?

Syracuse over Penn State: The Davis boys take the measure of state's Ritchie Lucas.

Mississippi over Chattanooga: The Rebels take out their anger over their loss to LSU on the Chattanoogaans.

Southern California over West Virginia: The McKeever twins get some real Mountaineers to work on.

Elsewhere: Auburn over Mississippi State, Clemson over Duke, Georgia over Florida, Washington over Oregon State, Purdue over Michigan State, Arkansas over Rice, Oregon over California, Air Force over Missouri, Georgia Tech over Notre Dame.

Also: Army over Villanova, Boston College over Pittsburgh, Colgate over Bucknell, Dartmouth over Columbia, Cornell over Brown, Princeton over Harvard, Holy Cross over Boston University, Rutgers over Lafayette, Lehigh over Virginia Military, Delaware over Temple, Navy over Maryland, Pennsylvania over Yale.

Cannon Voted Back Of the Week

By MURRY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

For his dazzling, 89-yard touchdown run in the final 10 minutes that brought Louisiana State a come-from-behind 7-3 victory over Mississippi, All-America Billy Cannon today was chosen the Associated Press' Back of the Week.

The 21-year-old senior from Baton Rouge had won fame for many other exciting exploits on the gridiron but for sheer drama last Saturday night's feat has to rate tops in his glamorous career.

It came in the game of the year, matching LSU's unbeaten, defending national champions, and an ambitious, all-conquering, third-ranking team fired up to reach the heights.

With 10 minutes to go and LSU trailing 3-0, the 6-1, 200-pounder grabbed a punt on his own 11. He cut towards the sidelines, shook off one tackler at the 10 and wriggled free of two others at the LSU 15. He almost was nabbed by a fourth Rebel but broke away. At the 25 he was rolling and at midfield he was beyond recall, trailed by a squadron of blockers.

There were many contenders for the weekly back honor including Ohio State's Tom Matte; Northwestern's Mike Stock; Washington's Bob Schloredt; Wyoming's Jim Walden; Nebraska's Ron Meade; Utah's Larry Wilson, and Dartmouth's Bill Gundy.

and only three first downs. The passing attack kept Vincentian in the contest until the latter stages.

Athletic Director Eddie Witko and the Onteora Central coaching staff were doing a slow burn Saturday night at the New Paltz-Onteora gridiron battle at the Huguenots' gridiron. Small wonder. The field was not only unsuitable for football. It was even dangerous to go swimming there.

Why then was this game played? This reporter asked Larry Johnson, the athletic director and one of the football coaches at the New Paltz school and his reply was, "we are paying $250 for the rental of the portable lights and we can't afford not to play."

That statement can mean only one thing. New Paltz was playing the game with the dollar and cents thought in mind rather than the unsafe conditions which could not only injure a player but which did not produce top rate football, something the paying fan is entitled to see.

When Bill Russell, the other football coach at the school was told by this reporter that the field looked dangerous to play on, he merely stated, "wet football fields have been proved to be safer than dry ones." This statement tends to show that gridiron contests should be played when the weather is wet because they are safer that way.

At any rate, the important contest should have been postponed until another date. The field was like a lake with puddles every step of the way between the two goal lines. The spectators who did brave the conditions to see the contest, were soaked by a steady downpour which took place almost throughout the fringes. The sidelines were ankle deep in mud and players from both sides certainly did not play the ball they were capable of on normal fields.

The fact that about $250 was spent to rent the lights should not have forced Coach Johnson to make a decision to play the game. When high schools start to think of money before they give any thought to the welfare of the athletes, it is time to drop inter-scholastic sports and play the game on the intramural level.

Kingston High School had a contest scheduled for that same day, but it was called well before 10 o'clock in the morning. It would not have been wrong to postpone the New Paltz-Onteora contest at 1 p. m. because it had been raining all day and the weather forecast was for continued showers. Yet, New Paltz officials insisted it be played, despite the conditions.

There actually might have been other reasons behind the playing of the game. But, to this observer, the only one had to be the fact that a mere $250 was involved. That seems to be a very poor excuse.

Hail to the Champs:

To give credit where it is due, a salute to the New Paltz team for winning the UCAI title. This is a solid ball club with an outstanding line, some speedy backs and a lot of depth. It is heading for an unbeaten season with only a tough Greer team standing in the way.

Things haven't been all too bright at the New Paltz school in recent seasons. The basketball team has had trouble winning and so has the baseball squad. The gridiron eleven tied with Onteora for the title last season, losing an outright championship on the last day of the season. This time around, it was different.

The Huguenots certainly deserve their title. They won it and did it in a big way.

Highland Powerhouse:

For the third straight season, Highland will win a Dutchess County Scholastic Football League title. It has only to beat Roosevelt Saturday to clinch the crown.

This observer feels that this year's Highland club is capable of beating any team in the DUSO League. It is built around a rugged offensive fullback and a devastating linebacker by the name of Leo Lillimaggi. This lad is college material and he no doubt will receive many offers before too long.

Lillimaggi was a two-way center last year. This time Coach Bob Relyea needed a fullback and he nominated Leo for the job. It was a good move. Against Wappingers last Saturday, he just put his head down and went through the line like a Sherman tank. And when the Falls club had the ball, it was Lillimaggi time and time again who made the key tackle. He is as good a football player as there is in the high school area this season.

Dots and Dashes:

Middletown fans received a Halloween gift when their football team won for the first time in 14 games. . . . The Newburgh-Poughkeepsie battle could decide the DUSO title. If the Goldbacks win, it might mean a triple tie in the circuit, if Kingston beats NFA on Thanksgiving Day. If the Pioneers win, they will clinch matters. . . . Mother Nature has thrown high school football coaches a curve for two straight Saturdays now, the first time that's happened in recent seasons. Crisp fall afternoons are apparently going out of style.

Boston Seen As 8th Entry In Grid Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston appeared today to be the leading candidate to receive the eighth and last franchise in the new American Football League.

Harry Wismer, member of the pro league's expansion committee, conferred with a Boston group headed by Leo Dowd of Nashua, N.H., Tuesday. He said no decision was reached but indicated Boston was the leader so far over interests from Philadelphia, Kansas City, St. Louis, Cincinnati and New Orleans.

The franchise vacancies were officially trimmed to one Tuesday when Buffalo officially became the seventh member. Wismer said Ralph C. Wilson Jr. of Detroit had decided to locate in Buffalo the franchise the AFL awarded him a week ago.

The six charter members of the league, which begins operations next fall, are New York, Los Angeles, Dallas, Houston, Denver and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Boston, which began the 1957-58 season with 14 straight victories, remained unbeaten in five games after defeating the Hawks Tuesday night at St. Louis, 103-38.

The New York Knickerbockers, who opened last season by winning 10 in a row, finally got their victory in the opener of the double-header at St. Louis, before 8,825.

The Knicks, who dropped their first two games, beat the Minneapolis Lakers 99-93 as Richie Guerin and Willie Naulls combined for 58 points. Guerin was high scorer with 35, and Elgin Baylor got 28 for Minneapolis, which dropped its fourth straight.

Boston had opened up a 13 point lead in the final period, when the Hawks' Bob Pettit got his scoring eye. Pettit got 10 of his 25 points in the last six minutes.

Bob Cousy and Bill Russell topped Celtic scoring — each with 17 points.

Boston Center New Hockey Whiz

CHICAGO (AP) — Bronco Horvath is the scoring sensation of the National Hockey League because he heeded a goalie's advice — shoot fast and along the ice.

The Boston center contributed two goals and two assists to a 6-3 victory over Chicago Tuesday night which boosted the Bruins into third place.

In 12 games, Bronco has 12 goals. Closest NHL rival Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal has seven in one more start. Horvath has 19 points, four more than runner-up Geoffrion.

"It's not how hard you shoot, it's how quick you get your shot away," Horvath explains. "The element of surprise is the big thing."

Much of his information was acquired in talks with Port Colborne neighbor Don Simmons who now is one of the Bruins' two goalies.

One of Simmons' tips concerned surprise. Horvath began practicing snapping his shots quickly. Simmons also told Horvath that the toughest shot for a goalie to stop is along the ice.

Vic Stasiuk and Johnny Bucyk, also had a picnic at Chicago expense. Stasiuk scored two goals and drew an assist. Bucyk added one goal and four assists.

Leo Labine rounded out the Boston scoring while rookie Murray Balfour, Phil Maloney and Ed Litzenberger scored for the Black Hawks.

Hot Start For Celts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, world professional basketball champions, are off to another hot start in the young National Basketball Assn. race.

Boston, which began the 1957-58 season with 14 straight victories, remained unbeaten in five games after defeating the Hawks Tuesday night at St. Louis, 103-38.

The New York Knickerbockers, who opened last season by winning 10 in a row, finally got their victory in the opener of the double-header at St. Louis, before 8,825.

Katsbaan, Italian-American Clash for 'Y' Cage Title

Katsbaan Tavern and American-Italian Restaurant will collide tonight, 8 o'clock, for the championship of the Major Division of the YMCA Fall Cage League. Both clubs have 4-1 records and tonight will mark the close of their schedule.

The American-Italian cagers lost a 78-73 decision to Katsbaan a couple of weeks ago. The only loss for the Tavernmen was to Slicker's Delivery, 64-61.

In the preliminary tonight Tarantulas Srs. will meet Slicker's Delivery.

In action last evening, Kerhonskon topped the Mixers, 57-42, Nadler's won, 50-30, over Jim's Atlantic and Byrne Chevies edged the 35 Club, 54-49.

Duke Lineman Gets AP Award

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Duke football coach Bill Murray accepts national acclaim for his star pupil, guard Mike McGee, with the air of a man who knew it all the time.

Murray feels McGee, named Lineman of the Week Tuesday by The Associated Press, has been the country's best all season. "I don't think any lineman in the history of the AP's selection has deserved it more," Murray says. "Here is a boy who is unquestionably one of America's great players."

McGee won the honor for his rugged play in leading Duke to a 10-7 "manhandling" of Georgia Tech, ranked ninth in the nation before the upset last Saturday.

Tech coach Bobby Dodd said "McGee played a great game. He broke through and threw our boys for losses several times. They certainly did manhandle us."

McGee called the Lineman of the Week accolade "the greatest honor I know." He said, "With as many great linemen as there are in the country, it's hard to see how they can pick just one."

McGee, 220 pounds of well conditioned athlete, sparked the Blue Devil forward wall on offense and defense. He is the only regular who lines up with both Duke's offensive and defensive units.

New Grid League To Name Draft Early Next Month

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The new American Football League plans to name 500 to 600 of the nation's senior collegiate football stars in its organizational draft here this month, a spokesman said today.

"Naturally, everybody is going after quarterbacks first," said Max Winter, acting general manager of the Minneapolis-St. Paul entry.

"We'll need at least 50 rounds or so to give each club a working roster," Winter said. "Our big inducement in competition with the National Football League is that we can just about guarantee a job to the players we draft."

The brass of the new conference will gather here Nov. 22 and 23 for public draft that formally will launch the American in competition with the long-established NFL.

Reese to Leave LA After 19 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers will lose coach Pee Wee Reese Thursday. The former Dodgers' ace shortstop and third base coach last season will help Dizzy Dean telecast Saturday and Sunday major league baseball games of the week over CBS.

QUARTER-ANGLE LEAD ALLOWANCES

IF THE GAME IS MOVING AWAY FROM YOU AT A 45° ANGLE, THE LEAD ALLOWANCE IS REDUCED ONE-HALF OF WHAT IT WOULD BE IF THE GAME WERE MOVING BROADSIDE, ALLOW LESS LEAD AS ANGLE INCREASES, SO THAT YOU ALLOW NONE WHEN GAME IS GOING STRAIGHT AWAY (OR NEARLY SO) FROM YOU.

HERE ARE SOME BROADSIDE LEAD ALLOWANCES FOR USING A .30-06. ALLOW ABOUT 1/2 FOR A 50-YD. TARGET MOVING AT 15 M.P.H., LEAD 2 1/2 AT 100 YDS.; ALLOW ABOUT 5/2 TO 6 IF IT'S 200 YDS. IF GAME IS MOVING 30 M.P.H., JUST DOUBLE LEAD.

Area Alumni Club Elects Officers

The director of admissions at St. Lawrence University told the university's Mid-Hudson Alumni Club at a recent meeting at Poughkeepsie, that it presently costs about $2,500 yearly to finance an education at a good college.

John Muyskens reported on a current trend whereby secondary schools first screen potential college students before admission procedure to specific colleges is begun. He noted consistent rises in educational standards with more emphasis now on a background in foreign language, and he outlined new types of scholarships available as well as college financing plans.

James McGovern, Poughkeepsie

sie, was elected president of the Mid-Hudson club, succeeding Chester Baltz Jr., of Kingston. Other new officers include Hubert Richter, Kingston, vice president; Jean McCorkle, Stone Ridge, secretary; James Embree, Stone Ridge, treasurer.

Faithful Financiers

NEW YORK (AP) — Playwright William Gibson has faithful financial backers. The production costs of two Gibson projects this season are being underwritten by the same group that backed his initial success, "Two for the Seesaw." The twin new ventures are "The Miracle Worker," a drama hit of the new Broadway season, and "Dinny and the Witches," which is getting an off-Broadway showcasing.

Reimer Co-Captain For Syracuse Squad

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Dick Reimer, playing for the first time in three weeks, will act as co-captain of the Orange football team Saturday in Saturday's crucial game with Penn State.

Reimer, 152-pound halfback from Northampton, Pa., was named Tuesday. He will serve with permanent Captain Ger Schwedes. He had been out since Oct. 17 when he suffered a shoulder separation in the Holy Cross game.

Montgomery Tries B'way

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Montgomery, actor-producer of films, television and stage, is planning a Broadway workout as co-sponsor and director of "The General's Other Son." The Andrew McCullough drama is on the agenda for staging next season by Montgomery and Alfred de Lague Jr.

The answers to everyday insurance problems* by HERMAN J. EATON, C.L.U.

QUESTION: Ours is an older home and has depreciated in value but if we had to rebuild any part of it because of fire damage it would be at today's high prices. Is there any way the increased cost of replacement can be handled in fire insurance?

ANSWER: Yes, there are forms of fire insurance which provide for payment of full replacement cost up to the value of the policy. A more complete explanation can be given on request. No obligation.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION of ANY KIND.

'False Pretenses'

Woman Cop Tells Why She Turned Down Quiz Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York city policewoman told today how she turned down a chance to star on the "$64,000 Question" TV show after becoming dismayed at the prospect of "false pretenses."

Clare Faulhaber, a former college English instructor and daughter of a vaudeville-repertory couple, told The Associated Press that after interviews by selectors of Entertainment Productions Inc., the show packager, she decided that it would be "exceedingly distasteful to get up and pretend to be something that I was not."

The interviewers, finding that her specialty—drama of the middle English period—lacked popular audience appeal, proposed that she tackle all of English literature as her category, she explained. Then they hinted that the questions might be "narrowed down to a particular character, book or chapter," giving her months to brush up.

When she commented that this was not fair, she related, she was told that "the public won't know." At no time did she say they would give her the questions. Miss Faulhaber said, "but it was hinted that I might be asked, for example, about Jane Austen, or, specifically, about chapter 3 of 'Sense and Sensibility.' Then I would have six months or so to read it over and over. That's pretty much like giving you the questions."

"I said I'd think it over," she related, "but that I'd be getting up there under false pretenses. I wouldn't say that I refused to appear—I was to go home and think it over. I did. I just never went back. I let it drop because I wasn't interested."

Colder Air Due For Area Friday

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The extended weather forecasts for New York State prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York—Rainy and mild at the beginning, turning colder with snow flurries, mostly north and west portions Friday and Saturday, followed by warming early next week. Temperatures will average 2 to 5 degrees below normal, and precipitation around one inch or more.

Western New York — An introduction to wintry weather is indicated, with temperatures expected to average several degrees below normal. Rain and mild tonight and early Thursday. A near-cold wave likely Thursday night and Friday, accompanied by snow flurries and locally heavy snow squalls, subsiding about Saturday. Moderating Sunday and Monday, probably followed by rain. One inch or more of precipitation is expected.

Temperature Normals — Normal temperatures over Upstate New York now range from overnight lows in the 30s to afternoon highs in the upper 40s and the 50s.

CPA Society Meets

Several Kingston members attended the recent meeting of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants held in Newburgh with 35 members present.

Local members were Leonard Rachmilowitz, Arthur Patterson, Lester Legg, Herman Bernstein, George Starkman and Richard Paar.

Jerome S. Miller, partner in the firm of Kalvin, Miller, Meyer and Sachs was guest speaker, who explained the role of the accountant in regards to insurance. He brought out many points of common interest to both the accounting and insurance professions.

Says Red China Now Considering Freeing 5 Yanks

HONG KONG (AP) — Joachim Alva, a member of the Indian Parliament said today Premier Chou En-lai told him that the Chinese Communists have under consideration the release of the five Americans they hold prisoner.

Alva arrived here Monday en route to India after a visit to Peiping.

He said Chou declined to discuss prospects for the Americans' release beyond saying the question is under consideration, a term frequently used by Communist Chinese officials to cover inactivity or a stall for time.

The prisoners are missionaries and Korean War personnel convicted of spy charges. During Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States, President Eisenhower asked him to intercede. Those imprisoned are Robert Ezra McCann, Pasadena, Calif.; John Thomas Downey, New Britain, Conn.; Richard George Fecteau, Lynn, Mass.; Hugh Francis Redmond Jr., Yonkers, N. Y.; and Roman Catholic Bishop James Edward Walsh, Cumberland, Md.
